July 03, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Panama City, FL ? As Hurricane Season 2019 spanning June 1st through November 30th ramps up, leading Panama City damage restoration company is looking forward to continuing their dedication and commitment to the local community by providing their expert services.

Last year's hurricane season proved undoubtedly to be the most devastating and expensive one in recent memory. With thousands of businesses and resident homes suffering damage from Hurricane Michael, a category 5 hurricane that swept through the area in early October, the area quickly became familiar with how important emergency services are.

Since 1964, Disaster Response Team has restored and rebuilt many homes and businesses in Bay County and the surrounding area. They offer services such as water damage restoration services, fire restoration, flood clean up, mold remediation, emergency board up services, wind and storm restoration and hazmat clean up.

The Disaster Response Team is also part of the Disaster Kleenup International (DKI) network. This assists

Disaster Response Team with intelligent and state of the art equipment and connections to services that are a huge help in restoring or rebuilding damaged homes and buildings as well as reconstruction of commercial buildings.

The reputable Panama City emergency response team is a full-service restoration company that will continue to provide their expert and reliable services this hurricane season.
