

Calgary Company DivorceEZ Announces Portable Low Cost Divorce

July 27, 2015

July 27, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

DivorceEZ in Calgary, Alberta, has issued a press release to announce the introduction of their low cost divorce. Historically, divorces have always been rather expensive and time consuming. DivorceEZ's new portable divorce is designed to curb the costs and the time constraints related to legal divorce.

Jane Watson of Calgary knows first-hand how expensive a traditional divorce can be, stating, "I went in circles with other divorce services and ended up paying thousands for a non contested divorce to not be completed. I contacted DivorceEZ, who accommodated my busy schedule and even met with me after hours. They took the stress out of the divorce process and we were divorced a short time later. My ex-husband and I have now moved forward with our lives. Thanks to the portability, extended hours and efficient costs, a bad experience was turned into a straight forward stress-free one."

On average, divorce can cost between $1,000 and $10,000 depending on location and a number of other factors. Studies show that many couples put off legal divorce simply because they cannot afford the cost.

"We know that divorce in general is difficult to go through," says Alana Baxter of DivorceEZ. "We want to help people by offering a lower cost option to traditional divorce. This eases the stress, at least from a financial perspective, and allows them to focus more on themselves, which is critical during these emotional times."

This portable divorce is designed to take care of all of the legal aspects of divorce, but at a much lower cost than going through a traditional attorney. Couples still end up legally divorced, and various scenarios can be accommodated. The company strives to handle all Calgary divorce requests, helping consumers to focus on more important matters.

"If you're going through a divorce," states Baxter, "you are having a hard enough time without worrying about how much this is going to cost you or how you are going to get the money to pay thousands to get it over with. This is where we come in."
