HUD512 Austin House Buyers Announces We Buy Houses in Austin

July 15, 2019

July 15, 2019 -
HUD512 Austin House Buyers Is Buying Distressed Houses in Austin, Texas. The company, which is located in Austin, announced recently that they are currently purchasing houses from homeowners who are looking to sell, and they add that the houses do not have to be in pristine condition.

Further details about the process can be seen on the company?s website at https://www.hud512.com/. Jack Rady, a representative for the company says, ?We know how time consuming and frustrating selling a home can be, which is why we have made it easier for homeowners. Our three step process is seamless and helps people to sell their homes quickly, without all of the waiting around and fees that come with traditional transactions.?

Rady says that the company can help homeowners to sell their homes quickly and in just three steps. He states that homeowners simply have to provide some basic information, meet with a company representative at their home and then choose their closing date.

?It really is that simple,? Rady says. ?We purchase homes in Austin, as well as Round rock and the Hutto area. We also understand that selling is not right for everyone, which is why we meet with homeowners and go over all of the options with them so that they can make an informed decision and one that is best for their family.?

Those who are interested in learning more can do so by visiting https://www.alignable.com/austin-tx/hud512/sell-your-house-fast. Rady adds that homeowners should understand that what makes the process fast is that the company is not a listing agent. They do not list homes for sale, but they buy them themselves, which makes the process much faster than going through a real estate agent.

Rady says that this means that homeowners do not have to worry about extra costs and fees being taken out of their home sale. He adds that homeowners do not even have to worry about fixing up their homes or spending money to get certain things done before the sale. The company buys homes as-is, in virtually any condition, which also makes it easier for homeowners who need to sell quickly.

Rady says that this quick process can help homeowners who may be facing foreclosure to sell their home, getting out from under the mortgage and helping to protect their credit at the same time. He says that in most cases, homeowners can expect to close the sale and have their sale proceeds in as little as just two weeks.

?Listing a house for sale with a real estate agent could take up to three months, and that is if the homeowner can find a buyer,? Rady says. ?We make it so much easier and we offer home buying in a number of areas around Austin.?

Those who would like to get a complete list of the areas where the company is currently purchasing homes can visit them online at https://medium.com/@hud512/we-buy-houses-in-austin-and-throughout-the-central-texas-area-hud512-cd6e5b39810b. Rady adds that homeowners do not have to paint, repair or even clean their homes prior to the sale. The company purchases distressed homes, whether that means distressed on the part of the owner or on the home itself.

Rady says that homeowners also do not have to worry about paying closing fees. Traditional real estate agents typically recommend that the seller pay off at least a major portion of the closing costs associated with a home sale in order to make the sale look more appealing to buyers. Rady states that his company will pay the closing costs, giving homeowners more money in their pockets when the sale is done.

Those who are interested can visit the company online and fill out a contact form to speak with a representative. The company?s website also offers more information about the process of selling a home to them and what the homeowner can expect in terms of timelines and paperwork. Those who are interested in contacting the company directly will find that information on the website, as well.
