July 11, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Backyard Bug Patrol is excited to announce the opening of a new branch in Bethesda, Maryland, specializing in mosquito and tick control services. More information regarding the new branch and its services can be found here: https://bethesdatickmosquitocontrol.business.site.

Backyard Bug Patrol affirms that they will strive to deliver stellar services to, and develop a working relationship with, local communities. Patrick Durkin, a representative of the company, asserts, "With our arrival at this new location, we seek to offer community residents a reliable and affordable alternative to take care of their backyard bug invaders. Even though this branch is quite new, Backyard Bug Patrol can assure our customers that they can expect the same characteristic reliability that the company is known for.?

To accompany the opening, the company also launched a brand new website dedicated solely to its Bethesda premises. Local resident may use the online resource to gain more information on the unique services that are now available to them.

Backyard Bug Patrol are leading professionals in tick and mosquito control and eradication, and have helped hundreds of customers bid farewell to these pests. They maintain that their mosquito control service is among their most important offerings, though many residents do not realize how much of a threat mosquitoes can be to an individual's health.

Durkin states, "Itchiness and annoyance are not the only things mosquitoes carry. They are carriers of many different diseases which are transmitted with just one bite, which will be enough to put the health of an individual at risk. We take great pride in our pest control capabilities, which is why we offer our customers a 100% guaranteed mosquito-free zone?or we will come back and deal with them completely free of charge."

The Backyard Bug Patrol of Bethesda has all of the tools necessary to ensure that their pest control services are carried out as quickly and efficiently as possible. Furthermore, the company even makes it a point to advise their customers on the different ways they can mitigate the spread of mosquitoes. This way, the company ensures their customers are not constantly infested with mosquitoes, even if they are not under the protection of the repellents used by the company. In a recent review, Joseph Green says, "I have also recently moved to Bethesda, and was looking for a reputable pest control company. We tried the major brands but they were so overpriced for the service we received. I saw the Backyard Bug Patrol of Bethesda truck driving around and decided to give them a chance. From our very first contact with the company, they were very polite, friendly, responsive, and professional. Overall, a great experience, and I more than recommend them to all of my friends and family as I have not seen a single mosquito since Backyard Bug Patrol drove them away."

Another review written by Daniel Bing asserts, "The customer service offered by this company is fantastic. I did not even realize how poor a service my previous pest controller was providing me until I called the Backyard Bug Patrol. They are responsive, professional, and always go the extra mile to ensure a perfect service. They answered all my questions and were super patient with me. If the heat is bringing out ants and other critters galore at your house, this company is definitely your best choice."
