Las Vegas, Nevada based Sunsella, an online store that supplies quality and affordable home and kitchen products, is proud to announce that they have yet again earned another Amazon's Choice badge for their silicone egg & pancake rings under the "pancake rings for griddle" category. The company also takes pride in their excellent product reviews, submitted by more than 900 customers on Amazon.

John Dritenbas, in a 5-star review rating on Amazon, says, "After trying metal egg rings and putting up with sticking egg and peeling paint in the past, we finally decided to try Sunsella's silicone rings for eggs and pancakes. I am pleased to say that they work great, so we use them almost every day. We usually coat the inside surface of the rings with a thin coat of butter and make sure the thick edge is down against the pan while it is seated flat against the pan. If you have a pan with a sloped edge, move the ring in towards the center so that it sits flat. Then, when you crack the egg into it, don't aggressively dump it into the ring because the impact can force some egg under the ring, causing it to leak. Just pour the egg out of the shell into the ring and it will go well. Eggs separate from the ring quite easily, especially if you use a small silicone spatula to run around the inside edge as you lift the ring slightly. Clean up is also easy. Overall, we are very satisfied with the quality and functionality of the product."

As noted on the company's website and Amazon page, SunSella's silicone pancake rings come in a set of four premium quality silicone molds that make cooking large amounts of pancakes or eggs a breeze. The company states that their silicone molds are made from FDA approved and extra thick silicone that are also BPA, phthalate, and lead free. Each ring has a heat resistance up to 446F/230C. They are dishwasher safe, and can be used to make breakfast sandwiches, omelets, desserts, egg muffins, burger patties, and more.

Company representative Mike Law states that SunSella egg rings are made from food-grade, non-stick, and heat resistant silicone which is durable, reusable, and easy to clean. The rings come with a fold-down handle made from high-grade stainless steel and a cool silicone pad for easy removal from the pan. Unlike metal rings, SunSella's silicone molds sit well on all types of pan surfaces, including cast iron, Teflon, aluminum, stainless steel, non-stick frying pans, and other bakeware/cookware without leaking or leaving any marks on them.

Whether you're preparing breakfast as the kids are rushing to get ready for school, making snacks before driving the kids to sports, or fixing dinner after a day of running errands, you can feel confident that SunSella will help you get the job done. Our silicone eggs rings are designed to the highest possible standard to guarantee your safety and satisfaction," affirms Law.

Emily Q. says in her Amazon review, "I gave SunSella's silicone egg & pancake rings 5 stars based on the quality of the product and the attention to detail of the company. Before they'd even arrived, I received an email from the company, through Amazon, with an extensive list of tips on how to get the best results, whether cooking eggs or pancakes. Having read descriptions and reviews for many different egg rings, I figured it would take a while to learn to use them effectively. The information given by the company allowed me to get acceptable results the first time, although I've gotten better since. The other seller's rings came with no instructions at all, were packaged in only a plastic bag, and I had to tighten the handle on one of them with pliers before I could use it. Each of my SunSella rings had a styrofoam insert to protect their shape and then the three of them were in a sturdy cardboard box for additional protection. Basic instructions were also printed on the box. Needless to say, the next time I need a kitchen gadget, I'm going to check first to see if this company offers it."

More details can be found on the company's website and Amazon page. In addition to silicone egg and pancake molds, SunSella also offers various home and kitchen products, including silicone popsicle molds, leak-proof bento box containers, silicone vegetable steamer baskets, stainless water bottles, and more. Customers may also look up SunSella's official social media pages to check out their latest news and important announcements.
