Dr. Randy Wong, from the Honolulu Plastic Surgery Center, is pleased to share the remarkable results of his work with patients at the clinic. Dr. Wong is one of the most successful surgeons in Honolulu, renowned for his expertise in plastic and hand surgery.

He states, "I take great pride in the work I do, which allows my patients to feel comfortable with their body. What, for me, is an everyday procedure is a life-changing experience for them, which they will carry for the rest of their lives. With this thought in mind, I have worked on improving my skills, learning different new techniques and procedures which will improve the result. While I did not do this for recognition, it brings me great joy knowing that I have changed someone's life for the better, especially when it inspires them to recommend me to other patients."

Dr. Wong makes use of the latest techniques and operational practices to produce a result which both satisfies his clients and exceeds their expectations. In a field as constantly changing and evolving as plastic surgery, this means constant work and effort on Dr. Wong's part to stay up to date with these techniques. Despite the challenge this produces, he has managed to learn and effectively apply these practices in his

"These days, having plastic surgery has become part of the culture, which means that people have far higher standards than ever before," notes Dr. Wong, adding that only by adopting the latest techniques can a surgeon ensure that his patients receive the results that they want. He adds, "Patients are looking for procedures that do not have long recovery times and have limited scarring. Using the techniques which were common a couple of years ago will not produce this; thus we, as plastic surgeons must deeply learn and adopt these emerging breakthrough techniques?or we would not be able to satisfy our patients."

Specializing in breast augmentation surgery, Dr. Wong has performed hundreds of surgeries throughout his career as a surgeon. He is one of the most experienced plastic surgeons in the region, helping women from across the state come to terms with their bodies. Notably, he asserts that he can determine the procedures that may need to be carried out to achieve the patient's desired breast shape and size after only one consultation.

Only an experienced surgeon can guarantee a successful procedure as Dr. Wong does, especially given that not many surgeons offer the option to reshape the breasts. He says, "Many limit themselves to either increasing the breast's size, or decreasing it, but they are not able to guarantee that both will retain a symmetrical shape, which is a concern for many women. Sometimes, they are not even able to guarantee a cup size and fail to recommend one depending on the lifestyle of the patient. For this reason, it is of the utmost importance that you choose a reputable plastic surgeon who can discuss and elaborate on this critical decision."

Over the years, Dr. Wong has gathered success stories from the hundreds of patients to whom he has offered his breast augmentation Honolulu services. One of his most recent stories, shared on RealSelf, describes the experience of Katherine Smith in the weeks before and after her surgery. She says, "Dr. Wong gave me exactly what I asked for. I am a very small woman, with almost no natural breast tissue at all. I wanted implants that would give me as much of a natural look as possible. Explaining this to Dr. Wong, I was probably annoying. I insisted every time we spoke that I feared my implants being too big, or would not look natural. Dr. Wong and his staff assured me that he understood what I wanted. And he did! The result is exactly what I wanted. My implants are settling in well?not too high on my chest?and they've loosened substantially, as he said they would. I would recommend Dr. Wong, as he did a great job catering to my needs."
