July 22, 2019 -

Dependable Homebuyers is pleased to announce a dramatic expansion of their current relationship to the Fort Meyers real estate market. The national home-buying company has long enjoyed a mutually-beneficial relationship with the region. Because of this, the company is currently working to expand to working with even more types of Fort Meyers homeowners. This includes those who own hoarder homes, properties in serious disrepair, and much more.

In virtually all situations, Dependable Homebuyers has worked with homeowners eager to sell. The company has built a significant part of their reputation on their willingness to work with those who find the current real estate market less than hospitable. It is true that the real estate market for Fort Meyers is presently in solid shape. Even so, and even under the best of circumstances, it can be difficult for a homeowner to find a reliable buyer. Even homes with few-to-zero problems can struggle on the market.

For homeowners currently trying to sell, it is vital to understand that the traditional real estate market is not the only potential avenue. This is a fact that Dependable Homebuyers has been communicating to homeowners across the country for quite some time. For example, a homeowner who needs to sell their property quickly will find selling a home in Fort Meyers to be significantly challenging. Even if the home is in pristine condition, a seller can find themselves on the market for months, if not longer. The process of selling a home will always offer a wide array of challenges and obstacles.Interested homeowners can read a recent press release they published at https://www.pressadvantage.com/story/29581-dependable-homebuyers-starts-real-estate-information-campaign-to-educate-buyers-sellers-and-agents-in.

In some situations, these challenges and obstacles can be overcome at an advantage to the seller. However, a homeowner operating with a very fixed schedule, in terms of plans and finances, can find it extremely difficult to walk away from a sale with a significant, rapid profit. Repairs, replacement work, inspections, appraisals, open house events, and appointments with potential buyers can be combined to create a frustrating endeavor for any Fort Meyers resident. Dependable Homebuyers understands the real estate market better than just about anyone else. They have a clear idea of just how challenging things can be. To that end, they have become widely known for reaching out to homeowners who are eager to sell as quickly as possible, and for as much money as possible.

Another element to working with Dependable Homebuyers involves their reputation for offering fair market prices on homes in Fort Meyers. Given the current real estate market, this presents a powerhouse opportunity for sellers who would rather circumvent the traditional real estate market altogether. For example, a homeowner whose property has foundation damage could potentially spend months, if not years on the task of bringing the home up to code, putting it on the market, and completing a sale. Through Dependable Homebuyers, the same homeowner can contact the company directly to start the process.

Dependable Homebuyers can offer Fort Meyers residents a fair market price for their home in just a matter of hours from the point of contact.
