

$500 Million Lemonade Man Anchors Washington DC Entrepreneur Business Retreat

July 29, 2014

July 29, 2014 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Washington, DC ? Com Mirza, the multi-millionaire entrepreneur who got started with a lemonade stand, is coming to D.C. to present a mastermind retreat for business minds and entrepreneurs. Mr. Mirza is bringing with him a special billionaire guest and, together they intend to inspire business owners and entrepreneur hopefuls to take their success to the next level.

Com Mirza started at age seven with a lemonade stand, and has been a serial entrepreneur, venture capitalist, and investor ever since. After the lemonade stand, he saw seven consecutive failures in his next business ventures. He applied what those failures taught him and now owns 26 companies in seven countries. His businesses include major hotels, agricultural ventures, real estate investments, franchises, media production, transportation, and events. While his businesses' success has earned him a multi-million-dollar Dubai apartment in the world's tallest building, and a personal net worth of over $500 million, Mirza remembers how it feels to fail in business, and is passionate about helping up-and-coming entrepreneurs get past their hurdles and taste success the way he has. It is this passion for helping others succeed that inspired him to start the Dream Chasing Family, a community of people worldwide who collectively help one another elevate to the next level and focus on reaching peak performance and live their purpose.

Taking this passion for coaching to the next level, Mirza recently hosted the Billion Dollar Mastermind in Dubai. Of over 300 applicants willing to pay the $20,000 course fee, Mirza selected only 12 for the focused success group. Many additional applicants requested another summit be offered at a lower price point; thus, the Mastermind X to be held this August, for 200 entrepreneurs and business minds with a dream.

Despite the drastically lower price tag of just $1,997 and can slightly go to $2,997 due to demand as the date nears, Mirza is committed to presenting a top-notch summit every bit as valuable as the $20,000 event in Dubai. He has personally invited his own contacts from both personal and business circles to share their stories and help inspire success and purpose in attendees. Guest speakers include millionaire entrepreneurs, proven business coaches, marketing experts, and wealth building guides. The headliner guest is a self-made billionaire who has been featured in Forbes, owns six private jets, and owns one of the world's most successful tech companies. While his name is being withheld until a later date, due to the already large influx of event registrations and risk of selling out, this speaker will share his wisdom with all in attendance.

With their business backgrounds, Com Mirza and his special billionaire guest know that success takes more than hard work, big dreams, and good connections. They know that success starts with a mindset, and this is why a large focus of this mastermind summit will be environments, contribution, value, big-thinking, and ultimate mastery. Mirza and his guest speakers aim to change the way applicants in attendance think, dream, purchase, and operate.

Scheduled for August 15-17 in Washington DC, this event offers two participation levels. General audience attendees can gain basic access to this event for just $1,997. Those looking for the full experience, including networking with the world's most successful millionaires and billionaires under age 40 at a yacht party, and the opportunity to pitch their business to investors like a real-life Shark Tank, can purchase the VIP package for just $2,997. Both levels are priced at just 10 percent of the estimated value and are selling quickly.
