August 06, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Vive Polanco, a luxury real estate company based in Naucalpan de Juarez, CDMX, in Mexico, has announced that they currently have a number of departamentos Polanco for sale. The real estate brokerage recently announced their official website launch, which offers real estate for sale in one of the most exclusive neighborhoods in Mexico City, Mexico.

Josh Stein, the founder of the company says, "We wanted to showcase these luxury apartments and homes online, so that anyone who is considering purchasing or those who may be relocating due to family or business purposes can look online and get a good idea of the beautiful properties that are currently available."

Stein adds that Polanco is an area in Mexico that has seen major growth over the past few years and that there are several luxurious apartments, homes and condominiums that are currently available for purchase. He adds that his website provides a detailed look at these properties, as well as information regarding their specific location, amenities that are located nearby, cost of the property, and more.

?We have information on the site about all of the current listings in Polanco, including pre-sells or pre-construction apartments and rentals. Anyone who is looking for a luxurious home in the area will definitely find what they are looking for with the number of departamentos en venta Polanco or ?apartments in Polanco? that are now available.?

Stein says that Polanco itself is filled with amenities which include shopping, restaurants, investment opportunities and more. The area is considered a prime place to live by celebrities and various business executives, due to the number of high scale restaurants, parks and museums that are located there. Polanco is also home to a number of historical temples and is filled with culture that spans from ancient Mexico and covers Catholic and Jewish faiths. Stein adds that as more and more apartments are built, there are likely going to be even more amenities added to the mix.

Stein says that pricing for the apartments vary depending on what the buyer is looking for, but can include high luxury apartments that have all of the amenities of a five star hotel and more. He adds that many of these apartments are currently standing empty and that those who are interested can contact his brokerage to schedule a showing.

?The website makes it easy for interested buyers to get an idea of what they like,? says Stein. ?But it is important that buyers look at these properties in person. After all, pictures can only do so much for a beautiful space. They really don?t do justice to the gorgeous architecture and layouts of these properties.?

Those who are interested can view current listings on the official website for the company, which can be found at <https://vivepolanco.business.site/>. Stein adds that Mexico City is quickly becoming one of the most coveted areas in the world in which to live and is a prime location for those who are interested in investments.

Stein has, through his years in the real estate industry, sold more than $250 million in real estate. He previously sold luxury apartments and homes in Miami, as well as in Colorado. Stein has founded two similar firms in the past, one located in Miami and one in Aspen, Colorado, and continues to look for prime areas in which to offer luxury living.

Stein invites those who are interested in a home for themselves or those who are interested in investing in property in Polanco to visit his official website and take a look at some of the luxury apartments that are currently available. His website also features a blog that gives more information about properties and investments that can be helpful for those who are interested. Stein says that those who are considering an investment in Mexico City real estate can learn more on his website or contact him directly by phone or email with any specific questions.
