August 06, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

A Shelby County Bail Bonds company recently announced the celebration of their 15th year in business. Alabama Bail Bonds serves Jefferson and Shelby counties in Alabama with bail bonds for a number of legal issues.

The company first opened its doors in 2004 with just a single location in Northport, Alabama and a single agent. Today, they serve 10 counties across the state of Alabama with agents in each area. A representative for the company says, "We are so pleased to be reaching this milestone. We have enjoyed helping people out for the past 15 years and we look forward to helping even more people in the next 15 years."

Alabama Bail Bonds is a small, family-owned and operated company. Ruby Collard and her daughter Jennifer own and run the business, and both are active members of the ABBA or Alabama Bail Bond Association. They have, over the years, become a well-known bail bonding company by many throughout Tuscaloosa and the surrounding areas.

Alabama Bail Bonds specializes in student bonds in Alabama. Reviews from their clients show that what makes them truly stand out from other bonding companies is the compassion that they have for those clients and their families.

"We understand that sometimes bad things happen to good people," says Jennifer Collard. "We do not automatically assume that just because someone has been incarcerated that they are a bad seed. Sometimes someone is just in the wrong place at the wrong time or having a really bad day. We treat our clients the way that we would want to be treated if the tables were turned."

Clients say that this is exactly why the company is now celebrating its 15 years in business. One client, in particular, spoke out recently about using different bail bonds companies and the difference that Alabama Bail Bonds makes.

"As someone who has used more than one bail bondsman, let me just say that the people at Alabama Bail Bonds care about their clients. They go out of their way to be helpful and they don't judge people just because they need bail to get out of jail," says a past client.

The company also uses only professionally trained agents and those agents are on call around the clock, seven days a week, on weekends and holidays. Their services are offered with no hidden fees and with complete confidentiality. Alabama Bail Bonds also provides a full refund if they are unable to post bond.

All of this, in addition to their dedication to their local community, is what clients say has led to their years in business and likely why they will continue to be in business for many years to come. There are several online reviews that have been left by clients and their families that praise the company for their compassion and their transparency with regards to fees and requirements.

The company says that their goal is to make the process of bonding out of jail as smooth and worry-free as possible for those who are incarcerated and for their loved ones. They have agents across the entire state of Alabama who is constantly on call and ready to help at a moment's notice. The company provides misdemeanor and felony bonds. Those who are interested can learn more about the company and their services by visiting them on their official website.

The website gives more detailed information about Alabama Bail Bonds and their credentials as well as the specific services that they offer. Reviews from past clients can also be seen on the website and they offer helpful links for those whose loved ones may be currently incarcerated, as well as a search feature that will let people search for specific inmates to find out if their loved one is currently in jail. The Collards and all of their staff state that they appreciate their community support and that they look forward to serving more clients in the future.
