CHARLOTTE, NC ? Integrative Chiropractic announced today that it is introducing new K-Laser Therapy. The practice made the move based on the idea that ?if there was a natural solution for your pain that did not involve drugs or surgery, people would want it.? For the estimated 100 million Americans who live with chronic pain, this might sound like a fantasy ? but at Integrative Chiropractic, a new technology called the K-Laser is treating even the most persistent and problematic cases of pain, without drugs or surgery.

Cleared by the FDA as completely safe and effective, the K-Laser emits specific red and near-infrared wavelengths of laser light to induce an intense therapeutic effect on the body. These effects include increased blood circulation, decreased swelling and pain, and faster or enhanced tissue repair.

The procedure itself is completely pain free. The K-Laser works by drawing in oxygen and nutrients in the bloodstream, which then rush to the area being stimulated. When combined with manual stimulus to increase blood flow and nerve interaction even more, an optimal healing environment is created, reducing stiffness, soreness and pain.

Each session takes 5-15 minutes and while some patients report an improvement after their very first session, nearly all patients will see results after 3-4 treatments. The best benefit of the K-Laser is that unlike other treatments that only mask the pain, this powerful laser treatment can permanently make patients pain-free.

Integrative Chiropractic has set up a new informative website, <http://www.get-better-naturally.com>, specifically devoted to the K-Laser and its applications.
