Centerville, Utah based All Clean Air Duct Cleaning has announced that they are now offering Sany Utah air duct cleaning. The company provides home and businesses with professional air duct cleaning in Sany, as well as Lehi, Layton, Salt Lake City, Provo, Sandy and other locations around the state.

Daryl Olsen, a spokesperson for the company says, "We are pleased to now be offering these services to homeowners in Sany. We believe that having air ducts cleaned regularly is important and essential for those who suffer from allergies, asthma and other issues. We are glad that we can help homeowners in and around Sany to avoid some of the issues that can be caused by dirt, debris and allergens."

Olsen says that the company always recommends professional air duct cleaning over do-it-yourself type cleaning and for many reasons. He says that All Clean Air Duct Cleaning has the professional equipment that is needed to get air ducts thoroughly cleaned, including high powered vacuums with HEPA filters that can help to prevent allergens, spores and mold from being released back into the home.

"Mold is something that homeowners should never attempt to remove themselves," says Olsen. "There are horror stories of homeowners who have released mold spores into the air and made themselves and their families ill because of those spores. Mold should always be removed by a professional and we have the equipment and the experience needed to do so.?

Olsen adds that homeowners on average are not going to possess the equipment that is needed to safely remove mold spores or any other allergens that may be hiding in air ducts. He says that not only is it safer for the air to have these particles removed, but regularly having air ducts cleaned makes the home safer in general as it removes any danger of fire starting due to dust and debris that has built up over time.

All Clean Air Duct Cleaning now has a team that is servicing homeowners in and around Sandy and they are currently booking appointments with homeowners in that area. Those who are interested can visit the company on their official website for more detailed information about the services that they offer. The company states that they recommend regular cleaning of air ducts in homes and small businesses and the frequency to which these ducts should be cleaned can depend on a number of things.

“People who suffer from allergies, asthma or other breathing conditions may want to have their ducts cleaned more frequently than those who do not,” says Olsen. “Also, those who live on gravel roads or who live in areas where there is typically a lot of dust may also want those cleanings done more regularly. We can consult with homeowners to help them to determine just how frequently they should have their air ducts cleaned.”

The company also has a blog on their website that gives homeowners more information about the importance of keeping air ducts clean and why professionals are a better choice than attempting a do-it-yourself version of air duct cleaning. The blog explains the importance of keeping air ducts cleaned and the benefits of doing so for homes and for small businesses.

All Clean Air Duct Cleaning has been providing professional duct cleaning for many years in and around Centerville, Utah and the company states that they are pleased to now be offering their professional grade services to those in this new service area, as well. They have recently expanded into other areas as well and currently service a major part of the state of Utah with their professional duct cleaning services.

Those with questions will find an online contact form on the company's website that will enable them to contact the company to learn more. Those who are interested in scheduling an appointment or an evaluation will also find direct contact information to reach the company through phone or email.
