Amanda Maree Homeware Conducts Surveys For Its Slim Line Hangers

July 31, 2015

July 31, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Amanda Maree Homeware, a business in Walnut, CA, has announced that they are running a survey on slim line and other clothes hangers. Their goal is to find out what their customers are looking for, thereby allowing them to improve on their current offerings. In order to encourage people to complete the survey, they will be automatically entered into a prize drawing as well.

Amanda Maree, owner of Amanda Maree Homeware, was quoted as saying, "Our hangers have been selling really well on Amazon and now we want to find out what our existing or new customers would like added to our lineup. We also would like to know what we can do to make our flocked hangers even better."

Some of the things the company is trying to find out is whether their customers are looking for any additional features. This includes such things as colors and sizes. Furthermore, they want to know whether anyone would want any entirely new versions, like those designed specifically for children or babies.

The prize draw will choose one lucky winner at random, who will be notified by email. The prize is a pack of 25 hangers. More info on the hangers themselves can be found on Amazon and through the terms and conditions listed on the Amanda Maree website. To take part in the drawing, contestants must be residents of mainland USA. For those interested in entering, enter draw here.

The current hangers have been available on Amazon for some time now. They have received a variety of positive customer reviews. "So I thought it was time to clear out my closets and started looking for a good hanger," says Katherine Patricia Hatch. "I found Velvet Clothes Hangers By Amanda Maree Homeware and thought I would give it a try. I received my order and not only were these hangers super, the bonus cascading hooks that were in the package were a fun surprise. This product is not only top quality but the box it came in also makes for a great Christmas gift."

However, according to Amanda Maree Homeware, no amount of positive reviews will mean their quality is ever completely perfect. They hope people will take the time, therefore, to answer the survey, so that the hangers can be improved upon further.
