Indianapolis, Indiana based Furniture Corner is proud to announce that they received yet another glowing review from one of their recent customers. The furniture store also boasts an average customer rating of 4.9/5.0 on the Google review platform.

On the review in question, Marc Deschaumbault, said, ?Furniture Corner is a furniture store you have to see. This store beats any other local store in Indiana in terms of furniture style, color coordination, value, and selection.?

As noted on the company?s website, Furniture Corner is one of the few premier furniture and accessories stores in the greater Indiana area that offers a full range of home furniture, accessories, rugs, mattresses, and more from some of the most trusted brands in the business. Moussa Khoury, from Furniture Corner, said, ?Now is a great time to visit our showroom in Indianapolis because we have great deals and exciting promotions on couches, lazy boys, and recliners?just in time for the football season. With the sporting event just around the corner, get your living room and entertainment room ready for Colts games.? Khoury also states that the company?s broad line of furniture consists of living, bedroom, and dining collections that are suitable for traditional, transitional, and contemporary styles of living.

Khoury notes that choosing the right furniture is never easy, but it is something that a company with a 5 Star Review can make simpler. He points out that buying home furniture can be an overwhelming process since there are so many different designs to choose from that might ruin an initial design plan. The various pieces of furniture must not only complement each other but also suit the room?s architectural features to maintain a pleasant and balanced look. ?If you wish to add depth to spaces, you can incorporate reflective and transparent materials. To accentuate a space, statement mirrors are ideal to reflect light around the room and make a small area appear spacious,? he said.

In addition, he advises homeowners to measure the size and ceiling height of the room to find out which furniture pieces it can accommodate and allow them to factor in some tolerance for circulation space. In order to achieve balance within a space, homeowners must ensure that each bold piece or color is complemented with a lighter hue or a simpler and more minimalist piece. Furthermore, furnishing a home takes time, and homeowners must do their research before buying any piece of furniture. Khoury also encourages homeowners to experiment in mixing colors, textures, and patterns to make their spaces look more interesting and layered.

However, he warns homeowners to keep the hidden costs of buying home furniture in mind. ?Before buying a piece of furniture, always consider all the costs that come with it. While one store may have a cheaper offer, they could charge you higher delivery fees and assembly fees to make up for their cheap price tag. Always get the full picture when buying any piece of furniture because these ?small things? can easily add-up,? says Khoury. He also encourages homeowners to avail themselves of bundle deals where they can buy whole sets of furniture to complete certain rooms.

Furniture Corner of Indianapolis offers their furniture at discounted yet premium packages where homeowners can easily get 10-15% more savings compared to buying each item individually. ?Furniture packages are great for people who want to save time and money since every piece of furniture included in a bundled package is already expertly hand-picked to complement each other. This also means that you no longer have to pay for the services of an interior designer,? he says.

Aside from design and cost consideration, homeowners are advised to consider how the furniture will fit their lifestyle?not only now, but for the foreseeable future. ?If you are planning to have a pet or kids anytime soon, you should avoid furniture that can easily be torn, stained, or damaged. Investing in luxury furniture is also not recommended for families with young kids. If in doubt, we always recommend choosing functionality and practicality above anything else,? he says.
