August 02, 2019

August 02, 2019 -

The Alberta Government is Amending Alberta's Employment Standards Regulation and Bill 2, An Act to Make Alberta Open for Business. To address these changes, which are expected to receive royal assent in September 2019, Salopek & Associates is conducting a one-hour free Breakfast Session to discuss how the changes will affect Alberta businesses and what organizations should be doing to proactively prepare their businesses and teams to ensure compliance. Visit https://www.salopekconsulting.com/ for more information about Salopek & Associates and details about the Breakfast Session.

?It is very important to keep up-to-date and understand trends and best practices in such a complex workforce. This is key to developing and retaining talent, and for that reason it is imperative for organizations to connect with an HR Practitioner who can assess and advise on the realignment of people programs and processes to address changes. When seeking a Consultant, it is best to choose a professional who is certified as well as has experience and specialities in the areas you are specifically requiring support,? Janet Salopek, President and Senior Consultant at Salopek & Associates, explained in a press conference. ?We at Salopek & Associates are proud of our team of certified HR experts who have been recognized by our professional association, CPHR with the Award of Excellence: Team 2019 as well as by the 2019

Canadian HR Reporter Readers Choice Awards in the categories of HR Management Consultant and Talent Management Consultant,? she further added.

With amendments being made to legislation, all organizations will want to understand and prepare. Visit Salopek & Associates? website for more information about the HR consulting support available and for more details about the breakfast session and to register.
