The Los Angeles DUI Lawyer, based in California, is reaching out to their community to help drivers avoid running afoul of the state?s drunk driving laws. In addition to discussing the grave consequences that can follow a DUI (Driving Under the Influence) conviction, the firm seeks to inform drivers of the measures they can take to avoid conflict with the law. ?The criminal laws in California consist of two distinct but closely related offenses under the criminal code,? explains the firm. ?The first offense is impaired driving, which bars a person from driving or caring or controlling a vehicle while their abilities to do so are prejudiced by the influence of drugs or alcohol. Impaired driving is covered under Section 253(1) (a). The second offense is the Over 80 DUI, which lays down the same stipulation but relates to a situation where the Blood Alcohol Concentration (BAC) of the person driving or in control of a vehicle is over 80mg per 100ml of blood.?

Both charges are quite similar in nature, to the point where they suggest the same mandatory minimum sentences. By law, this similarity keeps defendants from receiving multiple sentences?but they still need to be individually resolved. The Over 80 charge is one of the most litigated in the state and can result in the driver gaining a criminal record, serving a jail sentence, having their driver?s license suspended, and so on. Given that the proof of this offense relies greatly on the observations of both the investigating officer and associated eyewitnesses, the Los Angeles DUI Lawyer focuses on contesting these observations at trial. The firm states, ?Additionally, there is a very specific procedure that must be followed by the prosecution in proving the Over 80 DUI. During this procedure, a Drug Recognition Expert takes breath and blood samples in accordance with strict guidelines. The resulting BAC reading is then used as evidence during the trial. These are all issues that we litigate during trial and are experienced in dealing with.?

Drivers should also be aware that their legal problems will likely be compounded if they are a second time offender. As the firm explains, ?a second DUI can lead to extreme penalties, simply because the accused is considered to be a threat on the roads, and it could lead to a lot of future problems in the life of the accused. Under this offense, you will face several consequences, but the most severe is the permanent loss of your driver?s license, along with a jail term and/or probation that can be imposed for a period of up to five years.? However, the Los Angeles DUI Lawyer acknowledges that even innocent drivers can be unfairly targeted. The firm offers their expert legal counsel in order to ensure a fair hearing for each of their clients and secure a positive resolution in their cases.

Above all, however, the Los Angeles DUI Lawyer advises drivers not to risk getting behind the wheel if they suspect they are inebriated or otherwise unable to drive at their full capability. According to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA), ?Every day, almost 30 people in the United States die in drunk-driving crashes?that's one person every 48 minutes in 2017.?

At a BAC of .02 grams of alcohol per deciliter (g/dL) of blood, they state that drivers will typically experience a, ?Decline in visual functions (rapid tracking of a moving target), decline in ability to perform two tasks at the same time (divided attention).? At a BAC of .08, they state that this escalates to a serious impairment in muscle coordination and concentration. It also reduces the driver?s information processing capability (e.g., signal detection, visual search), in addition to many other negative effects. The best way to avoid being pulled over by a police officer for drunk driving?and to stay safe?is to drive sober.

Those facing a DUI conviction are advised to contact the Los Angeles DUI Lawyer as quickly as possible to discuss their case.
