August 03, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Schollegiate College Prep and Tutoring, a company in White Lake, MI, is providing advice to parents and pupils for the common application, which will be available on August 1st. Most other applications will be available then or shortly after that. Through a discovery meeting, as can be seen on <http://www.schollegiate.com/dm/>, the organization seeks to provide advice, information and guidance on college admissions and financial aid, two highly complex things that must be done right.

"Last year our students earned $11.3 million dollars in scholarships," says Lynette Bennett from Schollegiate College Prep and Tutoring. "We get these great results because we are experts. We assist students with college admissions and maximizing financial aid everyday of the week."

Schollegiate is based in Michigan and they work closely with students from that state. However, they are not exclusive to that area and provide assistance to students from all over the country and even abroad. Additionally, they provide a number of pieces of free advice through their website on <http://www.schollegiate.com/free-guide-2/>, which include information on the most common mistakes people make during their applications.

In his book, "Making the Most of College", R.J. Light said, "Good advising may be the single most underestimated characteristic of a successful college experience." This is a quote that the company lives by and they will continue to provide their advice to help students and their families throughout the minefield of college and FAFSA applications.

Finally, they also offer pupils the opportunity to take an ACT class, as can be seen on <http://www.schollegiate.com/act-prep-class/>. This will allow them to gain the vital skills and knowledge they need to improve their ACT score and thereby have a greater chance of being accepted to places like Duke University, Brown University, Cornell University, the University of Florida, Boston University, Florida State University, the University of Arizona, University of Michigan, Michigan State University, NYU, Georgetown University, Syracuse University, and Temple University, to name just a few.

"We want to help students discover all they need to know about the application process," adds Lynette Bennett. "We talk to high school students about the importance of their ACT, SAT and SATII scores. We will explain how the colleges take into consideration more than just GPA and test scores. We help families maximize scholarships and financial aid opportunities."
