Best Selling Bathtub Toy Storage Announces 365 Day Free Replacement Warranty On Amazon

July 28, 2015

July 28, 2015 -
LilUnicorn in Edmonton, Alberta, has recently announced a new 365 day free replacement warranty on their popular bathtub toy holder on Amazon. The toy organizer has been receiving five star reviews since it was first introduced to the Amazon marketplace.

"I love the 2 additional extra-strength suction cups that came with this. They can hold a lot of toys without slipping," says one Amazon customer.

The suction cups that come with the organizer are pre-installed and extra strong. Also included are two bonus heavy-duty suction cups that serve as a backup. The company does offer a free replacement, just in case the suction cups don't work, but Amazon customers haven't had this problem.

They're finding many reasons to be satisfied with the bath toy organizer. "Finally! No more stepping on Legos or toys while going in for a shower," says one customer. Another remarked, "I had purchased a more expensive bag from Babies-R-Us and mold started growing in it, with this I don't have to worry about it!"

According to Amazon reviews, the holder is the best bathtub toy organizer on the market. The suction cups are designed to stick like a magnet, with strength to hold a number of bath toys. It provides bath toy organization that is secure and safe.

If something does go wrong with the suction cups, if they do not stick properly, LilUnicorn offers a full 365 day replacement warranty and offers a customer satisfaction guarantee.

"We know that these things will hold," says Suzy Pierce of LilUnicorn. "We believe in them so strongly that we're offering this replacement guarantee just to show our customers that we mean business. The suction cups are sturdy enough for every toy your child wants to put in it and then some."

The bath toy organizer is also easy to install. Parents merely have to stick the cups to the tub wall and then put in the toys, which are kept safe from mold and mildew by the quality designed mesh net that holds the toys up and out of the way until they are needed at bath time.

LilUnicorn recently announced that to celebrate their recent launch of their baby bath toy organizer on Amazon, new customers will qualify for a special customer appreciation sale.
