Detroit Company Expands Demolition Team

August 07, 2019

August 07, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Chicago, Illinois based McDonagh Demolition (MD) recently announced that they are expanding their team in Detroit due to increased demand for their services. Tim Cahill, spokesperson for McDonagh Demolition, stated, "Helping achieve neighborhood improvements through the demolition program helps all who make Detroit their home. We offer competitively priced demolition, site preparation, and development services for residential, commercial, and industrial clients. We can also provide turn-key environmental remediation and construction services."

As a result of this expansion, the company is looking to add staff to their team both in Detroit and Chicago to help take the organization to the next level. Those with a "Can Do" attitude are invited to find out more and complete a job application online at their convenience. The company maintains its original specialty in demolition services and are qualified as a Class A demolition contractor in the City of Chicago. They recently participated in the Chicago Cook Workforce Partnership hiring event and resource fair, which focused attention on careers and job opportunities in the construction industry.

McDonagh Demolition has a stalwart reputation for using good work practices, a byproduct of their belief that a successful project is the result of teamwork and coordination. They recently received Workplace Safety Recognition from Mortenson Construction for the exceptional safety measures they took in the workplace for a high profile project carried out in Racine, Wisconsin.

The team is headed by Geraldine McDonagh, whose entrepreneurial spirit permeates throughout the company, and Coleman McDonagh, who is the driving force behind their growth. Together with Paul Dadian, who has direct oversight of the staff, the company is on target to achieve their vision. They maintain their own fleet of equipment, in addition to experienced personal and reliable subcontractors, in order to complete projects efficiently, on time, and on budget.

McDonagh Demolition recently added a section to their website to share the demolition projects they have successfully completed in the past. These additions give prospective employees great insight into the wide range of projects that the company has undertaken. From O'Hare Modernization to the Goldblatt's Water Tower Removal, visitors can observe how MD makes sites safe for new improvements and infrastructure that will serve communities well into the next century and beyond.

Their most recent post highlights the O'Hare Lynx Cargo demolition. Due to the project's location, the company needed to strategically maintain maximum crane and equipment heights so that they did not interfere with critical runway operations and flight paths. The management team's experience and leadership were instrumental in ensuring that the structure, which operated until around 2005, was taken down safely.

From mobilization to completion, McDonagh Demolition has expertise in coordinating, permit processing, engineering, testing, and onsite management. Along with managing multiple contracts and trades, they can address virtually any requirement, no matter how big or small. Having gone green, they will ensure that all recyclable materials are sent to transfer centers, in line with environmental expectations from their employees, clients, and the public.

Established in 1998, McDonagh Demolition has grown over the past 20 years to become a major general contractor in Ohio and beyond. They pride themselves on the expertise and experience of their estimators to develop accurate job cost proposals to satisfy any project schedule under any conditions.

Their turn-key environmental remediation and construction services include excavation, the handling and transportation of contaminated materials and hazardous waste, and asbestos and lead abatement. Their site remediation and dewatering services help ensure that site preparation can be accomplished while relying on only a single firm to manage the entire process.

Those looking to work with the veteran demolition company may join other experienced personnel utilizing the latest models of loaders, excavators, hydraulic breakers, skid steers, compactors, compressors, and a variety of hand tools necessary to complete the construction or demolition project that is required. They may pursue their next position in construction by filling out their McDonagh job application online. Contact Tim
