Steel Horse Towing representative, Greyson Benjamin, says, "Our company underwent a major revamp in order to upgrade its facilities, abreast workers' towing and roadside service skills, and keep our brand current. We always look ahead of the curve to demonstrate our commitment to quality. And that would require continuous upgrading."

Towing companies especially rely on technology and manpower skills to deliver top quality tow truck services to the public. Manton Towing prides itself on maintaining an assortment of tow and recovery vehicles. Each vehicle is designed for different towing needs. They have boom trucks for recovering vehicles in ditches. They have wheel lift tow trucks for quick towing in short distances. They use hook and chain tow trucks for cargo and wrecked vehicles. They also have flatbed tow trucks for carrying vehicles for long distance deliveries. The company understands the importance of using the right equipment and tools for specific types of work.

According to Benjamin, "Every tow truck is designed for a specific purpose, so using the correct equipment will increase efficiency in getting the job done right without causing injury and damage to the equipment or any property. Using the right tools enhances safety and speed." For details about the company's towing services, please click here <http://gmbp.in/u/5d49a6fad4b10>.

The company also takes pride in introducing a friendlier and more professional workforce that provides their specialised services to people. They have more courteous and supportive dispatchers as well as more competent and skilled tow workers. All their personnel are trained to be customer oriented. In this way, they can ensure that all clients get the quality service that they deserve.

Benjamin explains, "More is better when it comes to providing service. We now put premium on great customer service. It is the primary job of every member in our organization. This is why our human resources are our most important asset. Our respectful and helpful staff creates and reflects the character of the company that will bring new customers and keep our old ones."

Steel Horse Towing also provides upgraded roadside assistance to motorists. Car technology continues to advance. Thus, repair skills and knowledge of their tow workers must also be progressive. They continue to offer jumpstart services for drained or dead batteries, fuel delivery, flat tire change, car lockout and winch out services. These emergency assistances are delivered with greater politeness and responsiveness to customers.

Steel Horse Towing also redesigned the company website to be more responsive to customers. It now incorporates better content and serves as an alternative channel for reaching the company and sending requests. The company has improved their website so that they can better operate and communicate online in the virtual world, which is now part of the telecommunication norm.

Benjamin explains, "Steel Horse's tow truck services are available 24-7. Customers simply need to contact our dispatchers at (901) 245-5365 and a tow truck rescue will immediately be sent to their location. For any information or inquiry that customers need to know, they can visit the company website, which is also open 24-7."

Towing are available all day and all night at all times. This is a critical feature of their tow services because accidents and car glitches randomly occur. They will provide exceptional towing or roadside assistance, whichever fits a customer's need. The company promises that people can depend on their help. They also commit on solving customer problems.

With the opening of Manton Towing, Benjamin assures the people, "There is almost always something that will ruin your day. If that's your car, simply call us and we'll fix it up to make your day better."
