Phuket, Thailand (August 9, 2019) ? The LifeCo Clinic, one of Thailand?s top alternative cancer treatment centers, recently launched a new YouTube channel that aims to educate patients and the general public on the healing power of the center?s holistic treatments and integrative therapies.

The channel features interviews with the clinic?s consultant and renowned integrative oncology expert Dr. Thomas Lodi. In the videos, he breaks down The LifeCo Clinics healing protocol which is based on three pillars: stopping the production of cancer, targeting cancer cells without harming the body and enhancing the immune system.

The LifeCo Clinic recognizes that cancer treatment is not just about eradicating the physical traces. To truly heal and keep cancer from coming back, an integrated approach is vital to also empower the mind and spirit.

As part of this integrated approach, the center uses targeted metabolic therapies like vitamin C, ozone and glutathione; supportive treatments like colon cleansing, massage therapies and detox programs; adjunct therapies like immune enhancement and oxygenation; immune treatments, and mindfulness techniques such as yoga and meditation. Patients are also placed on a raw plant-based diet to allow the body to reset and rejuvenate.

According to Dr. Lodi, the new channel is an important step in reaching out to more people around the globe. ?Over the years, we?ve seen an increasing interest in alternative cancer treatments. People want to learn more about holistic therapies and non-Western medical protocols that patients on the other side of the world are benefitting from,? he said. ?We are fortunate to have this platform that will allow us to educate and enlighten people. We hope this can be the start of a life-changing healing journey for cancer patients who wish to regain their birth right to health.?

With the launch of the new channel, viewers can now learn more about integrative oncology and how it is practiced at the clinic. In another video, Dr. Lodi explains what the healing journey is like for patients.

Also in the channel is The LifeCo Clinic?s feature on Ty Bollinger?s newest video series wherein he travel across Asia to learn more about alternative cancer treatments. Bollinger is the creator and producer of the documentary series The Truth About Cancer.
