MINNEAPOLIS, MN - August 19, 2019 -
The Key Guys have been serving customers in Minneapolis, St. Paul and the surrounding Minnesota areas since 1988. Over that time many have come to recognize them as the foremost car key experts in the area. They have the knowledge and equipment to cut car keys for any make and model of vehicle. The locksmiths at The Key Guys even know how to handle all different types of transponder key problems. This includes transponder key programming which some auto owners need to have done from time to time. The best part of the auto locksmith services that The Key Guys offer is that they do it right where their customer's vehicle is parked.

Company spokesperson Bryan Nystrom had this to say about their expert transponder key services; he says, ?Gone are the days when all a locksmith had to do with auto keys was to cut people new ones. Today?s auto keys have become very sophisticated pieces of equipment. That?s because they are part of today?s advanced automobile anti-theft systems. More commonly known as transponder keys or chip keys, modern auto keys pose more challenges to locksmiths because they perform more than just one function. Fortunately, the skilled locksmiths that we employ are able to handle many different transponder key repairs. This includes changing batteries, fixing buttons, and even reprogramming them if necessary.?

The company will also do car key programming as part of their emergency locksmith services. These services are available 24-hours a day every single day of the year. It?s nice for their customers to know that when a transponder key malfunctions, they can get help any time of the night or day. That includes key problems that happen late at night, on the weekend, and even on major holidays. They are also known to have some of the fastest dispatched emergency auto locksmith services in the Twin Cities area. This is a great service for their customers to take advantage of when a transponder key malfunction has left them stranded far from home.

Brian went on to add that transponder keys need to be reprogrammed when they fail to communicate with the host vehicle. While reprogramming transponder keys is not simple, it can be done by talented locksmiths like theirs that have the know-how and resources to get the job done. If any of their locksmith techs ever have a problem reprogramming a transponder key, they have access to customer support at all the major automakers so they can get help and work through the problem.

The Key Guys also offer many other automotive locksmith services besides transponder programming. This includes removing keys that have broken off in an automobile lock. Nystrom warns that trying to remove a key that has broken off in a lock is best left to a professional locksmith. That?s because if it?s not done right it could damage the lock that the key has broken off in. This will make the situation even worse and drive up the cost of the repair.

Among the other vehicle locksmith services that The Key Guys offer includes making backup sets of car keys and handling all different types of auto lockout situations. They even do on the spot ignition cylinder replacements and repairs.

The Key Guys are an auto locksmith company that is also known to go out of their way to make things simple for its customers. An example of this comes in the form of a recent review that was written about their service. Nancy Anderson wrote, ?I didn?t have to drive anywhere. The Key Guys came right to my office and replaced my key right on the spot. I can?t believe how easy it was. I will definitely recommend The Key Guys.?

For more information on the company?s transponder key programming services or any other automotive locksmith service The Key Guys offer, all those interested have to do is contact Bryan Nystrom or any other company representative.
