August 19, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

The NJ Center for CoolSculpting (R) is helping clients who want to lose fat permanently. The premier New Jersey CoolSculpting (R) center has also announced that they are now offering patients up to $1,200 off of their first appointment.

Dr. Hardik Soni, medical director for the Summit, New Jersey based center says, "We thought that offering a steep discount would help to convince more clients to give this amazing technique a try. The problem is that many clients acquaint CoolSculpting (R) to plastic surgery or liposuction, although there are worlds of difference between these various treatments."

Dr. Soni adds that the doctors at the center are masters at what they do, using CoolSculpting (R) to freeze away fat cells permanently, which aids in fat loss and helps clients to gain back their self-esteem. CoolSculpting (R) is a relatively new technique that has gained in popularity over the past year or so.

"There is a reason that this procedure has become so popular," says Dr. Soni. "It works. This procedure can permanently eliminate fat cells on any part of the body, leaving that area smooth and fat-free. It's like a lot of workouts all rolled into one procedure.?

Dr. Soni adds that this innovative technique actually freezes fat cells, which the body will then naturally digest and remove forever. This non-surgical and non-invasive technique has gotten rave reviews from clients who have tried it and Dr. Soni states that the center is pleased to be offering this to their clients. A look at the specifics of the procedure can be seen at <https://sites.google.com/site/coolsculptingnewjersey/>.

Dr. Soni adds that the procedure is FDA approved and completely pain-free. He states that those who have tried and tried to tighten up certain areas, such as the tummy area, to no avail can use this procedure to finally get rid of that unwanted fat. The procedure is so popular that it has quickly become a part of the center's Mommy Makeover, which helps new mothers to quickly get back to their pre-pregnancy shape.

?This procedure is perfect for those who have stubborn fat that simply will not move with other methods,? says Dr. Soni. ?We have helped many clients to gain back their confidence by simply removing fat around their abdomen, upper arms or other areas of the body.?

Dr. Soni adds that the best candidate for the procedure is someone who is leading a relatively healthy lifestyle and who is close to their ideal weight. Stubborn fat that simply will not move with workouts and other methods can be removed from the chin, arms, bra area or belly. Those who are interested in learning more can visit the center on their website at <https://nj-center-for-coolsculpting.business.site/>.

Dr. Hardik Soni is the medical director of the center, which focuses on providing clients with the skin that they want without using invasive procedures. The center offers a wide range of procedures including CoolSculpting (R), dermal fillers such as Juvederm, laser hair removal, chemical peels and more. Dr. Soni states that the center's website offers more information on all of the procedures that they offer, as well as galleries of before and after images.

The website also has reviews from other clients. Those who are having second thoughts about a particular procedure can read through the reviews to see the views of others on these same procedures. The website offers an online booking function that enables users to book their appointment for any of the offered services directly through the website.

Those who are interested in scheduling a consultation with Dr. Soni or any of the professionals at the CoolSculpting (R) center can do so through the website or contact the center directly by phone or by email. The initial consultation will be used to help the client better understand the procedure and answer any specific questions that they may have, as well as to help them to understand what their specific results may be after their sessions are completed.
