If a person thinks they know everything about their current industry, they are doomed to do poorly. This is what Evan Roberts of Dependable Homebuyers stressed when he said, ?The minute you feel you know everything...you are setting yourself up for failure.? He went on to revel in the fact that the company had had a record-breaking year, and that even though numbers are in the black they will never stop learning, asking for advice, and seeking information.

One great way to do all of this is by staying current with ActiveRain, which Dependable Homebuyers plan to do. It will be a great way to stay connected to the industry at large, and even though they have been members for only a short time so far, Roberts praised the fact that they have already formed some great relationships and learned valuable information. ?We are convinced that being a member of ActiveRain will benefit our staff and company immensely.?
