August 23, 2019 -

Dependable Homebuyers, the most trusted We Buy Houses company in Fort Myers, has joined ActiveRain, the largest social network for professionals in the real estate industry. The real estate firm has been an innovator with its services. Their primary expertise of buying houses directly from owners without charging any commission and absorbing the closing cost has been a disruptor of the status quo. Countless homeowners have managed to sell their houses, which were not finding many takers in the open market, in the last nine years and the firm has no intention of stopping the wheel of innovation. It is constantly improving its services and has rolled out many other progressive solutions that can help sellers, buyers and investors.

Speaking about the recent development, the founder and owner of the company Evan Roberts said that ActiveRain is the most active platform for professionals in the real estate industry. The platform already hosts over four million posts on the official blog. There are innumerable experienced professionals with varying expertise and specializations. The network can be an educative platform for those who want to learn. The platform can also be a medium for professionals to share their own experience and expertise with others who are interested. Evan Roberts says that his team is interested in contributing to the knowledgebase and also wants to learn from others. The firm has had a record year and it has grown from strength to strength in the last nine years. Yet, Roberts and his team want to explore uncharted territories and learn as much as they can about the real estate industry in Fort Myers, throughout the state of Florida and beyond.

Roberts says that there is sufficient scope for growth in the real estate market of Fort Myers. The growth recorded in 2018 can be used as the foundation for further expansion in 2019. He stresses on the need to focus on new home construction. He also shares his invaluable advice to those who want to buy, sell or flip houses. Dependable Homebuyers continues to buy houses from owners in Fort Myers and the surrounding areas. It is making direct cash offers without any involvement of real estate agents. The company does not use multiple listing services. It has also started buying land anywhere in the state of Florida. The firm has grown beyond its local presence and has a nationwide operation right now. It wants to expand its professional network, share their experience with others in the industry and also learn from the specializations of investors and specialists. Here's a recent press release they published.

ActiveRain provides a fascinating platform for all who are associated with the real estate industry in Fort Myers and across Florida. The treasure-trove of information available and the exchange of ideas can empower fellow professionals and specialists. Roberts and his team are committed to add value to the network and also extract precious lessons from the experiences of others.
