

San Antonio based We Buy Houses Company Gets Another Five Star Review

August 23, 2019

August 23, 2019 -

Dependable Homebuyers, a top We Buy Houses company based in San Antonio, has received yet another five star review from a homeowner in the city. Evan Roberts and his team at the real estate investment firm has helped Timothy Kelly sell a house without any uncertain delays. In a raving review, Timothy Kelly has said that Roberts and his team are experienced and thorough professionals, their service is unmatched and they have worked with all parties involved to sell the house as per the preferred schedule.

Time is of great importance in real estate sales. Every homeowner and buyer have their respective plans. Such plans are time bound. Roberts said that it is their forte to expedite sales of houses in San Antonio and they do this by eliminating the need to hire a real estate agent and listing a property online for an uncertain period of time. While endorsing the review of Mr. Kelly, Evan Roberts further stated their turnkey solution has simplified how homeowners sell their houses. This is regardless of the type of property they own, the location where the houses are and the exact condition they are in.

Mr. Kelly is not the only one who has given a five star review, fully endorsing the services provided by Dependable Homebuyers. Megan Donovan has recently conveyed her endorsement of the company. She said that the services offered by Roberts and his team are very helpful, especially when it is about actually selling the house and not just getting an appraisal or a tentative offer. Ms. Donovan also reiterated that the We Buy Houses company has the expertise to work with all parties and liquidate residential properties with a surefire turnaround time. Here's a recent press release they published.

Homeowners like Mr. Kelly and Ms. Donovan have appreciated the availability of Evan Roberts and how his team is proactive with everything. Roberts is always accessible over the phone and he responds to all queries homeowners usually have. His team on the ground makes the whole process convenient. Homeowners do not have to put in any effort to sell their houses. In the absence of a real estate agent, homeowners are also able to save the six percent commission on the sale. This is a huge saving and can significantly increase the net financial gain from the sale.

Roberts says that his investment company takes a distinct approach. They do not rely on the same old listing service and the typical routes to get a buyer. They are the buyers and have no intermediaries unnecessarily delaying or complicating the sale. Dependable Homebuyers also issues press releases from time to time. The sustained frequency of such public advisories and notices are to enable the owners of residential properties in San Antonio to know how the real estate sector is faring. The industry is dynamic and changes happen all the time. Knowing the market trends, learning everything about the recent developments and having an understanding of how the sector is likely to fare in the near future can empower homeowners to make the right decisions at appropriate times.
