Others emphasized the team's expertise on all things wood and their ability to provide valuable advice to clients who may be overwhelmed by too many options or restricted by a limited budget.

ENMAR has also been noted for providing competitive pricing without compromising quality of output and service. This is due to the company's exclusive relationships with some of America's top mills which allows them work directly with suppliers and pass on savings to clients.

Another client added, "I have been wanting hardwood flooring installed in my home for a very long time. I've shopped and done plenty of research. I decided on ENMAR because Brian made me feel comfortable (no pressure at all) and confident that my floors would turn out exactly how I pictured them. I was right!
