September 05, 2019 -
Builder Hot Spots, a company based in Plano, Texas, has announced that the home builder, Impression Homes, is now featured on their website. Impression Homes relies on its 30 years of experience building homes that are constructed with careful attention to detail and using quality materials to make sure that the homes will last a lifetime.

Cat Nguyen from Builder Hot Spots states, ?Impression Homes realizes that your home serves as the backdrop for many special moments in your life. Thus, it?s not just a structure or building but it?s also a place where precious memories are created. Therefore, they always make sure that the homes are built using quality designs and materials to ensure they will last a long time.? She continues, ?We are surely excited to have added Impression Homes in the list of home builders that we feature on our site.?

Several homes in various neighborhoods in the Dallas Fort Worth metroplex are featured on the Builder Hot Spots site. These include the homes at The Glen of Village Creek in Kennedale, Texas, with sizes ranging from 2,829 to 3,026 square feet, and prices ranging from $346,582 to $358,331; homes at North Creek II in Melissa, Texas, with prices ranging from 1,888 to 3,433 square feet, and prices ranging from $259,990 to

The cities in the Dallas Fort Worth area where new homes featured at the Builders Hot Spot site are located include Argyle, Arlington, Allen, Celina, Colleyville, Carrollton, Flower Mound, Forney, Dallas, Grand Prairie, Irving, Frisco, Lantana, Little Elm, Keller, McKinney, Oak Point, Mansfield, Prosper, Roanoke, Plano, Rowlett, and The Colony. The website offers an online search tool that allows potential home buyers to search for new homes by city.

People who are looking to buy a new home will find the Builder Hot Spots website to be quite helpful. It has a Quick Search tool allowing people to look for homes by neighborhoods in a certain city or by specific builders. The searcher can specify a particular city, the community status of the home, and/or the community style. Meanwhile, for the builder's search tool, potential homebuyers can either choose the ?All Builders? option or select a specific builder from a drop-down list.

The Builders Hot Spot website also has a blog page containing articles that can help potential home buyers with their decision making. Some of the topics of the articles are: the five reasons to sell a home in spring 2019; a survey of active home shoppers to determine whether the disaster that happened in 2008 can possibly happen again; and whether it is time to upgrade a home.

Aside from the blog posts, the website also presents recent news that can affect home-buying decisions. These include the impact of property taxes in cities in Texas like Prosper; MainVue Homes? expansion to the Dallas Fort Worth area, particularly in Allen; the presence of many companies relocating to Frisco, Texas; and the presence of 12 new home builders in the Windsong Ranch community in Prosper, Texas.
