Heirloom Culinary, a company that specializes in manufacturing and selling multipurpose kitchen scissors, has recently listed their burlap lining heavy-duty kitchen scissors at a 10% discount off the original price on Amazon. Co-founder, Jack Liguori, made the following statement: "We are really excited with the latest addition of our fashionable burlap lining package, which we know people will love, and to celebrate this, we decided to give all of our customers a 10% discount."

The company stated that the heavy-duty kitchen scissors that come in the burlap lined box is exactly the same as the scissors packed in the traditional box, so customers can feel confident that they will still be receiving a high quality product that is able to cut everything from poultry, meat, herbs to pruning trees and bushes. The Heirloom Culinary kitchen heavy-duty scissors will also have no problem cutting through metal, said Jack Liguori.

There are currently 86 customer reviews, with the majority of them being positive. One customer, who is known as Zack, wrote the following review: "The burlap lined box matches the function of shears. The scissors which are used for heavy duty crafts as they are, looks perfect in a burlap lined box. Should I also add that aside from their great and high quality product I am very impressed with their customer service...My faith in great customer service was restored because of them."

In order to get the discount, interested parties need to go to the company's Amazon storefront, add the product to cart and make the purchase. No coupon code is necessary. Jack Liguori said that they are also offering a lifetime guarantee to all customers that buy the burlap lined heavy-duty kitchen scissors.
