

TacPack Reviews Typical Contents of Their Subscription Box

September 04, 2019

September 04, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

TacPack recently reviewed the items customers might receive in their monthly subscription box. The collection of professional-grade products is typically valued at more than $80-$100, far beyond the subscription price of just $49.95 per month, including delivery. Subscribers receive 6-9 items from long-favored companies and industry leaders, as well as up-and-coming vendors offering new and creative products and solutions of interest to the shooting community. TacPack notes that items can include gun cleaning and retention system tools and accessories, including survival tools, lights, pens, and an array of blades, from the SOG Tomahawk to the Schrade SXT.

TacPack highlighted that previous subscription boxes have featured items like the HexMag Grip, tactical knives, a Martin Hammer, Breakthrough Clean Battleborn grease, Sawtooth Barrel Floss, Armaspec Titanium TakeDown Pins, and splatter targets. Subscribers receive items perfect for outdoor adventures, as well as the tools that guarantee you're ready for anything, every day. TacPack engages only with reputable companies offering the kind of gear that customers can use and appreciate, like Kershaw Knives, Xtech Tactical, Mission First Tactical, Armaspec, Readyman, and more.

Gift subscriptions are welcome, and new subscribers can sometimes obtain the current month's box depending on availability. TacPack did note that box value does vary slightly from month to month, and that's largely influenced by vendor arrangements for that month's box items; subscribers can rest assured that the box's value is typically at least double the subscription rate.
