August 04, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Web Marketingville, of Cincinnati, Ohio, has added the Local Buzz Connect service to its online marketing services lineup. The Local Buzz Connection service is all about getting the Buzz out for local businesses online. This, in turn, allows them to become better known in the social media communities and other online locations where their customers also reside.

"Without giving too much away, our Local Buzz Connection Programs can bring instant authority to local professionals and businesses that do not have authority and not much of a budget," said Ken Geers of Web Marketingville.

The main driving force behind the work that they do is video authority. This allows local businesses to gain more presence on social media networks and the internet as a whole. These videos are wrapped up into powerful problem solving and solutions content, which increases viewership of a business and increases their credibility. As such, it provides the best bang for internet marketing budget.

Web Marketingville is now building a huge Local Buzz Connect directory, which ensures they get the most out of the Local Buzz Connection Programs. They are currently featuring a local area for content distribution. This will allow them to make an additional impact on that area.

In the videos, the local business owner or professional becomes the spokesperson. In so doing, the videos automatically gain greater authority and credibility. This, in turn, will lead to more sales in the long run.

"With over 80% of those shopping for products and services going online to do research first, before committing to a buying decision, it only makes sense to get the business owner in front of that buying market, that is what Local Buzz Connection is designed to do," said Ken.

Web Marketingville is a non-traditional internet marketing service business. They have been highly successful in working specifically with local businesses and professionals in ways that are out of the box. They encourage anyone to follow Local Buzz Connect on Twitter. Here, various tips and other pieces of useful information are shared, and details are provided about the work that they do.
