Utah based Chem-Dry of Park City recently issued a public advisory highlighting a number of reasons why homeowners should clean their rugs regularly. They also point out the benefits of hiring a professional cleaning company to ensure that the rugs are kept clean and in the best shape possible.

As noted on the company's website, one of the major advantages of regularly maintaining rugs is cost-efficiency, given that frequent rug replacement costs can add up quickly. Daryl Olsen, from Chem-Dry of Park City, also states that a clean and well-maintained rug can protect and extend the lifespan of carpeting and hardwood flooring. Putting rugs in high traffic areas, he says, is a better and less expensive way of maintaining any floor surface. In addition, Olsen explains that rugs act as giant filters—trapping allergens, dust, pet danders, and molds, so it is important to clean rugs regularly to prevent these harmful particles from being released into the air when the rug is disturbed. Homeowners are advised to perform a deep cleaning of their rugs at least twice a year to prevent diseases like common colds, asthma, and other chronic respiratory illnesses.

Olsen asserts that it is important to hire a professional rug cleaning company, like the team from Chem-Dry of Park City, because they have the proper equipment and the skill to resolve any rug-related problem. Many people think that rug cleaning is an easy task to accomplish. However, if you are not trained at it, you'll probably end up having to replace your rugs more often. When a professional does the work, they can actually extend the life of the rug, so it is a much better investment than doing it yourself," he says. In addition, professionals utilizing the right techniques and cleaning materials know how to fully remove any type of stains. He explains that some rugs can be easily cleaned with steam, while others require a unique cleaning method—and only a rug expert can identify the best course of action to ensure that the stains will be removed without causing any damage to the rug.

"Hiring a professional rug cleaning company also eliminates all the stress that comes with rug cleaning. Besides, you no longer have to guess which cleaning material is more effective than the others when you shop for supplies. You can sit back and relax knowing that your rugs are being cleaned and maintained by professionals," says Olsen. Furthermore, he asserts that professional rug cleaning is a great investment as it can help remove the harmful particles circulating in the air, resulting in a cleaner and healthier home.

Chem-Dry Park City is one of the most reputable Park City Utah rug cleaning companies in the area, offering a wide range of professional home cleaning services. The company takes pride in offering affordable rates and excellent customer service to residents of the greater Utah area. Notably, many of their previous clients can attest to the company's quality workmanship and exceptional service.

Jenny Iverson, in a 5-star Google review, says, "I was happy with my Chem-dry experience. They came in and cleaned several of my sofas and chairs, as well as a large rug. One of the chairs had been quite filthy, and it looked like a different chair when they were through with it. I have a lighter colored loveseat that they told me might not come completely clean because of the fabric, and it wasn't perfect but still looked better. My rug is a multi-color patterned rug and has a significant portion of off-white in the pattern. It was quite dirty, and I think their process pulled up a lot of dirt. The off-white parts actually didn't look great when they were finishing, but the workers told me it might just need to dry. They assured me, if it didn't look better by the next day, to call and they would fix it. Sure enough, it still looked dirty the next day. I called, and they came back that afternoon and worked for several hours until it was cleaned to my satisfaction. They were very cheerful about this and not bothered by the extra work, and they continued to work until I was satisfied. The rug looks as good as new."

More information can be found on the company's website. Homeowners may also send an email or call the company's customer hotline to inquire about their professional home cleaning services. Furthermore, interested parties may connect with Chem-Dry Park City through their official social media pages to stay in touch with their latest news and announcements.
