Mr. Mateo Hatfield, a representative in Phil?s Towing, explains, ?Getting your car towed is already stressful enough for people. But getting charged with excessive towing fees can even be more nerve-wracking. Thus, our company has decided to provide our customers with cheap rates to demonstrate our sincere intention to help. Indeed, sincerity and integrity are two ingredients that cannot be measured with money that allows our company to give real service.?

The move by the company to make cheaper towing services was not only meant to be competitive. Their pricing was also crafted to deal with one of the most common grievances of customers in the towing industry. Many customers complain that towing companies charge them high fees.

Adrian Berkley, one of the seasoned tow truck drivers of Phil's Towing reveals, "Many customers I have helped before tend to be frazzled and wary. One of their major concerns is the expensive towing charges. By making our tow truck services cheap, price is one less problem that customers need to worry about."

Price transparency is an important aspect of Phil's Towing cheap services. The company provides a detailed breakdown of the costs involved in their charges. This helps its customers to be more informed about their service costs. It also allows people to understand the rationale behind their prices.

Hatfield explains, "We charge no hidden costs. The company strictly follows an honest pricing policy. In this way, a customer can make a more informed decision in availing of our towing services." To learn more about the company, click here: <https://twitter.com/philstowingstl>.

Affordability does not only pertain to their towing services, but it also extends to the company's roadside assistance offerings. Services like installing batteries, car lockouts, and flat tire change, among others, are also low-priced. Despite being cheap, these services never compromised quality. Price may be bargained but their quality is non-negotiable.

Janet Naples, a former customer of the company, notes, "Phil's Towing service rates are indeed reasonable especially their roadside assistance. Considering their efficiency in performing their job and their proven reliability 24-7, their quality service can be counted as cut-rate."

She further shares, "When we got stranded along a shady road in Cherry Hill, we were uneasy because we are unfamiliar with the place. It was getting late and there are hardly any cars on the road. After coming to our rescue on such short notice, the responding tow truck even escorted us to find our way around. This added value of helping us beyond the call of duty is priceless."

Hatfield elaborates, "Our cheap rates apply to all our major services. In responding to a customer, our workers may sometimes render different services. Our workers may resolve the issue by jumpstarting the battery or arranging battery cables. When everything else fails, we tow the vehicle to the nearest auto mechanic. However the problem is addressed, the customer can be assured of economical and sincere service."

"Indeed, there are plenty of cheap towing services in Baltimore, MD, and its nearby areas. But if you are looking for affordable services that do not compromise quality and add value, then Phil's Towing is the company to call," concludes Hatfield.
