

Freddie And Sebbie Achieves Social Media Success

July 31, 2015

July 31, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Freddie and Sebbie, a trademarked luxury kids line accessory business in Las Vegas, NV, are proud to announce that they have now reached over 6,000 people through their various social media accounts. The Freddie and Sebbie Shops on Facebook now has 6,430 likes and this number is growing. The company is incredibly happy to see that they are reaching the very people they had intended to reach and providing them with quality, yet affordable, child friendly products.

"When we reached the 5,000 mark on Facebook, we couldn't have been happier," says Neil Speight from Freddie and Sebbie. "But our numbers kept growing and we were over the 6,000 mark just a few day later. We have our fantastic customers to thank for this, who are so appreciative of the various products that we deliver."

All of their products are listed on the Freddie and Sebbie website, through which customers are redirected to Amazon, where they can make their purchases safely. This is something that customers have been very appreciative of. The reason for this is that while the website is highly secured, Amazon is known for their extra protection for shoppers.

Each of their different products on Amazon have been very positively received and reviewed. "Will buy again from Freddie and Sebbie. Everything received as described," says one customer. "On time and product as expected. Would Highly Recommend."

Freddie and Sebbie baby products are designed to be efficient, effective, high quality, and affordable. They include mainly products to make traveling by car easier for children and their parents alike. Products include such things as kick mats, car seat protectors, backseat organizers, car sun shades, car trash cans, back seat mirrors, car seat sun shades, outdoor blankets, cooler bags, lunch bags, water bottles, changing pads, stroller organizers, bath letters, toy hammocks, and more. Essentially, they have everything that could be needed by a family that loves spending time together, traveling and going out into the great outdoors.

Customers are excited to hear what the next Freddie and Sebbie product will be, which is almost guaranteed to sell well straight away, if their history is anything to go by.
