Honolulu, Hawaii based Honolulu Plastic Surgery is pleased to inform clients around the world that their world-class surgeons are able to ensure much shorter recovery periods to patients who undergo breast augmentation procedures at their clinic. Led by Dr. Randy Wong, a surgeon who operates at the cutting edge of the plastic surgery field, the Honolulu Plastic Surgery Center is famous for the conscientious care they maintain with their patients.

“Once patients undergo a breast augmentation procedure,” states Dr. Wong, “they find that the recovery period immediately following it can be somewhat intolerable. This is natural, of course, since everyone we work on will inevitably be eager to see their results, or even to show off those results, but we find that patients can find it difficult to wait while their surgical scars heal completely. Due to this, the clinic and I took measures to ensure that we utilize only the most innovative and reliable surgical techniques—effectively shortening a patient’s recovery periods by a wide margin in many cases.”

As the clinic explains, “Dr. Wong has a deep knowledge and respect for the tissue that exists in the body and this knowledge allows him to place and shape it in a way that is not only aesthetically pleasing but has very little disruption on the body.? Therefore, even though he will actively caution patients that they may have to wait an extended period to fully heal, prior to their procedures, he will also commit himself to being as minimally invasive as possible in order to give the patient the best chances of enjoying a rapid recovery. ?We understand that patients want to enjoy themselves and their bodies to the fullest extent as soon as possible,? says the clinic. ?It is our goal to make sure that happens as swiftly and smoothly as possible.?

Breast augmentation surgeries represent one of the most common surgeries that Dr. Wong performs at the clinic, a service that Honolulu Plastic Surgery offered once they realised how many women were dissatisfied with the shape or size of their breasts. As Dr. Wong says, ?There are a multitude of reasons why a woman would want to have her breasts altered. On one side of the equation, we have patients that feel their breasts contribute to their poor self-esteem issues, so we take pride in correcting this through our industry-leading procedures.? Learn more about Honolulu breast augmentation procedures by visiting the clinic?s website.

?On the other hand,? the doctor says, ?we receive patients who wish to alter their appearance for more functional purposes, such as to select a cup size that they are more physically comfortable with. We offer breast reduction procedures, for instance, a popular option for many women who report having to deal with more than their fair share of back problems. Others simply want to be able to find clothing that fits them easier, since garments for their body type may not be carried by larger store chains. Whatever their reasons, we welcome everyone who would like to have a consultation and discuss what they want changed. It is always a pleasure to hear back from patients who have experienced a positive swing in their lives after visiting us.?

Notably, the clinic boasts a perfect 5/5 score on the Google review platforms, where multiple clients have left glowing testimonials of their work. For instance, Patty F. says, ?After checking out several doctors, I decided on Dr. Wong to do my breast reduction surgery. It?s been two weeks post-op and I know I made the right decision. During the consult, he patiently answered all my questions and I never felt rushed or like I didn?t have his full attention. He walked me through the surgery and told me what to expect, one thing being little to no pain post surgery. True to his word, I had zero pain and never needed any pain killers, not even Tylenol! Dr. Wong is absolutely the best, and my only regret is not doing the surgery years ago.?

Those who would like to learn more about the practice or schedule a consultation may contact Dr. Randy Wong of Honolulu Plastic Surgery.
