September 20, 2019

September 20, 2019 -
Campfire Travel is pleased to inform their avid readers and the wider community of camping enthusiasts that the latest edition of their eMags is now available. Those who keep up with each new release will know that the company publishes their informative and entertaining eMagazines each month and, as before, the September release brings a bevy of camping tips and stories from around the community. Furthermore, both longtime fans and newcomers are encouraged to check out the latest Campfire Travel Competition in order to submit their own entries and stand a chance to win unique rewards.

In Edition 9, the magazine touches on subjects that include more specialized camping mattresses (a discussion on alternatives to the air mattress, long considered a staple of the hobby for many explorers), a selection of breakfast, dinner, and snack recipes for travelers, a breakdown of the camping possibilities in states like Maryland and Wisconsin, and so on. New visitors to the website will be pleased to learn that, crucially, this eMag is always free, and easily accessible from the Campfire Travel website.

In addition to this, both the eMagazine and the website itself are tailored to be compatible with any device. As the company states, ?Whether you?re checking out our website on your computer at home while you plan your next hike or leisurely reading through our magazine on your smartphone or tablet device in your tent, we have taken several measures to ensure our materials are always accessible, even on the go. This is because we knew our readers would want unfettered access to our resources at any point of their journey. Everything we have shared about camping is always at your fingertips.? Notably, readers may also check out each of the eMagazine?s past editions?including the special editions for dog owners, each of which explore the joys of camping outdoors with a furry companion.

Campfire Travel continues that this is also true of their competitions. ?We host a new competition every month, so it?s crucial that we allow competitors to check the rules or make submissions whenever they are able to.? Similarly, competitors may want to look into this month?s Sunshine Valley Competition?the most significant prize for which is an amazing 2-day stay at the beautiful Sunshine Valley RV Resort.

The company elaborates, ?Only 15 minutes past Hope BC, with 110 large 50-amp serviced sites, Sunshine Valley is a place for your family?s outdoor adventures! Surrounded by the snow-capped Cascade Mountains, it offers a wealth of recreational activities for all campers, including exceptional skiing and snowboarding at Manning Park in the winter months and miles of beautiful hiking trails in the summer.? Winners will also receive two personalized shirts (man and woman), two coffee mugs, two travel mugs, and a fire pit that they may utilize during their trip to the Sunshine Valley RV Resort as well as any other trips they may take in the future.

Run by camping experts and aficionados, Campfire Travel seeks to make themselves an online haven for wilderness explorers and other kindred spirits. Visitors to their website, for instance, will instantly be able to use the built-in map utility to look up or make reservations at campgrounds and RV resorts across the United States, Australia, and even New Zealand (eMagazine readers may check out this month?s focus on New Zealand?s camping opportunities as well). Their mission, they say, is always to, ?bring fun, entertainment, and news to RV and Camping enthusiasts everywhere.?

?All of our Apps will have embedded games for children and adults to keep you entertained on your camping journey,? says Campfire Travel in a statement on their website. ?We will also have our easy Campground and RV Resort finder and directory to help find that extra special place to camp. A new free members area has also been designed that will be a social media gathering integrated into your Facebook and Twitter accounts. Invite friends, comment, and interact with other campers.?

Those who wish to learn more or begin exploring Campfire Travel?s resources may visit their main website. More information can also be found on their social media pages, which enjoy extremely active followers and are regularly updated with news, competition results, and other relevant information for the eMagazine?s community of travelers.
