July 31, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Bowie, Maryland business Porcelain Tub Restorations, has announced a new extreme adhesion promoter product for bathtub refinishing coating. Further information can be found on <https://bathrenovationhq.com/>. One of the things that makes this product stand out, besides its quality, is the fact that it can be used in budget bathroom remodeling projects.

Paul Burns, from Porcelain Tub Restorations, says, "Our Advanced Silane Coupling Agent is designed with the budget bathroom remodeler in mind. A lot of people want to have a stunning bathroom, both for their own comfort and for the value of their home, but bathrooms are very expensive to renovate. The adhesion coupling agent allows people to make changes to their bathroom and insure the quality, durability and at a price they can afford."

More and more people are choosing to refinish their bathroom fixtures rather than replace their bathrooms. This is due to significant budget constraints. Overall, bathroom suites are built to last a lifetime, so it is certainly true that there is generally no absolute need to replace the entire suite. However, as much as they are built to last, tubs and tile coatings do start to look worn.

Peeling is the most common complaint of people who ended up refinishing their bathtub or tiles. By using TubPotion #8 Advanced Silane adhesion promoter, however, as can be seen on <https://bathrenovationhq.com/>, they are provided with a permanent bond for coatings on ceramic, porcelain and acrylic bathroom fixtures. This means that their worn out bathtub or tiles can look like new again, and they will keep looking that way for many more years to come.

The product has been very positively received by those who have tried it. "Had my beaten bathroom repaired with a new refinishing job, very excited by the results and beautiful installation, now over a year old," says Mary Smith. Other reviewers have similar remarks, and Porcelain Tub Restorations always takes the time to thank reviewers or address any questions they may have.

As can be seen on <https://bathrenovationhq.com/services/bathtub-refinishing/>, the product works equally as well on ceramic floor tile and counter tops. As such, it can be used in various other remodeling projects around the house as well.
