September 19, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

The most versatile towing service in Austin, TX and nearby areas is just a dial away now that Lincoln Towing is fully operational. The company recently finishes revamping its business to bring its operations into full regulatory compliance and ensure its future. All their tow technicians also underwent intensive retraining to upgrade their skills and know-how and enhance their customer service skills. Edward Lloyd of Lincoln Towing explains, "We strongly believe that our tow operators and mechanics are at the center of everything we do that's why invested in improving their skills." Aside from its human resources, the company also upgraded its fleet of tow trucks and equipment. The company now boasts of having up-to-date lorries and support tools to render the best tow truck services in and around the Austin area. "Automation advances, Lloyd says, would increase productivity and efficiency across our various towing services and roadside assistance by 10-20 percent."

The company offers cheap local and long-distance towing, reliable emergency towing of cars and motorcycles, flatbed towing and wheel lift towing, auto wrecker and recovery services. The company also offers diverse roadside assistance such as winch out service, locksmith service, jumpstart service, fuel service, and flat tire assistance. A detailed description of each of their services can be found here: <http://gmbp.in/u/5d84001fce3bf>.

To make information about the company, its services, news updates and specials more accessible to the driving public, the towing business also just launched a redesigned website. The design of the website is aimed at a highly user-friendly platform with simple navigation and more information about how the company can serve the customers. It also features educational articles about traffic, car maintenance, traffic laws and the like, which will be useful to all motorists. The new site is neat and appealing to decently highlight the wonderful opportunity for drivers and travelers to learn more about the company, transportation, towing services, and other related information. "Digitalisation of our information services would help improve our interaction with customers by as much as 30 percent," Lloyd explains.

One important aspect of the website is it became an avenue for customers to voice out their sentiments and positive feedback about the company. People can find testimonies about great customer experiences with Lincoln Towing. Jen Braden, for instance, a resident of Anderson Mill shares. "Any vehicle problem becomes a real challenge for me because I don't know anything about cars except drive them. I have been calling Lincoln Towing for any emergency car trouble that I had on or out of the road. They have never failed ever since. They simply are the best."

Customer feedbacks are not only used by the company to showcase their previous work performance and provide proof of their quality services. Feedbacks are also an important source of learning for companies to identify and correct their flaws and weaknesses. Lloyd says, "Reviews from customers improve services, measure satisfaction, and shows the company's commitment to value customer opinion."

Lincoln Towing has established itself as a fierce towing company that has continually delivered quality service in Austin, TX, over the years. With the latest reopening of its full services, it promises the people of Austin that they will have faster, more reliable and cheap towing services than ever. Lloyd concludes, "We are happy to continue providing the people of Austin the best towing services in the city. The introduction of our improved services is going to save many stranded motorists in a timely manner with top-notch service with the cheapest rates around."
