

Mericles Towing Launches Revamped Towing Service in Saint Petersburg, FL

September 20, 2019

September 20, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Mericle's Towing Service in Saint Petersburg, FL is now fully available to customers beginning August 30, 2019. The improved services included a comprehensive range of tow truck services, wrecking services as well as roadside assistance for the residents and visitors around St. Petersburg, FL. The launch follows a month-long revamp of the company aimed to upgrade their workers' customer service skills, modernize their tow facilities, launch a new website and expand its service coverage area. For more information about the company, please follow this <https://www.mericlestowing.com>.

The expansion of the Mericles' service area will extend their top-rated services to communities such as the Bay Pines, Piney Point, Rio Vista, Valroy, Oakhurst Shores, and Seminole, etc. Residents of these neighbourhoods can expect the same top-quality towing and emergency roadside assistance services that Mericles Towing is known for. Through the company's 5 key stations strategically situated in the St. Petersburg region, customers can expect quick arrival of towing rescue within 30 minutes to their location. The complete list of their service areas along with zip codes and maps can be accessed on the company website.

Kealan Waller, the spokesperson for Mericles Towing asserts, "We are inviting the people of St. Pete to come and visit us in our office along 6th Avenue to learn about our new towing services. We are back in full operation and we are more than ready and pleased to address all the city folks' towing needs."

Also known as the Sunshine City, St. Petersburg is a popular vacation destination for people seeking to have fun on the beach, go fishing or do other water activities. The city is generally laid back but traffic can be tough especially during rush hours in the interstate regions. Mericles Towing has served the city for decades and has played a central role in keeping traffic at bay and helping residents and visitors get into their destinations. Many car problems especially occur when tourists flock the city during summer.

Waller adds, "Our broad range of towing and roadside assistance services are available 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. Anybody who encounters a car problem can get immediate assistance simply by calling us. All our tow technicians are licensed and fully insured so customers can be assured to receive quality service." The company offers car and motorcycle towing, flatbed towing, emergency towing, long-distance towing, car lockout assistance, spare tire change, etc. For a complete list and description of their services, check out this <http://gmbp.in/u/5d840b68311c4>.

As part of the company revamp, the company is also proud to announce the launch of its newly redesigned website. The fresh all-embracing website brings together Mericles' towing solutions into a more visual experience. It also gives customers and site visitors access to a wealth of content including news updates, company specials, discount coupons and learning resources.

"We are equally delighted to introduce our new company website," says Waller. "The appealing design and enhanced readability will give its visitors a much more enjoyable viewing experience. We trust that our customers and visitors can gain more access to regular updates, topics, and trends about the company, the industry, and other related subjects. Customers are invited to explore the website or leave a message to the company in the following (link). Waller adds, "We are urging our customers to send us reviews and feedbacks online about their experience with the company. Our company is actively collecting feedbacks because they are our primary source of learning to further improve our services."

Waller expresses the company's excitement to be back in full operation after a brief interval of revamping its business. He says, "Mericles Towing is all about what the customer wants and what they get. We ensure that our service solves the problems, is worth the cost and is carried out with unparalleled customer service."
