The company has enjoyed rapid growth since their founding in 1969, expanding across the US at an astonishing pace. Imperial Crane expects to fulfill the need that currently exists in Michigan for a reliable crane rental company.

Gina Kaktis, a representative of Imperial Crane Services, says, "We had received several calls in the past asking about our availability in Michigan and we could not ignore these requests anymore. We made an effort to transfer over every aspect of our services that distinguishes us in our prime location, and we are pleased with the outcome. The community has given us a warm welcome, and we intend to pay them back with dedication and excellence."

At the moment, Imperial Crane hosts one of the broadest selections of cranes in Michigan, though they still plan on expanding this range to match their other locations. Their cranes available for rent include All Terrain Cranes, Boom Truck Cranes, Carrydeck Cranes, Conventional Latticeboom Truck Cranes, Crawler Cranes, Hydraulic Truck Cranes, and Rough Terrain Cranes.

The crane rentals that Imperial Crane provides are among their most popular services, due to the

Our clients? success in their projects translates directly into our own growth, both as a company and a community; thus, we are committed to helping them at all times."

Imperial Crane also offers crane sale options for those interested in acquiring a piece of equipment that they can use in their current and future projects. This equipment is available at a competitive price that is only possible due to the partnerships that the company has developed over the years, as they are a renowned and respected entity.

Aside from securing a broad catalog and the best prices for their customers, Imperial Crane shows their commitment towards their clients by offering a complementary list of services that provides their customers with everything they need to succeed in their construction projects.
