Las Vegas Wisdom Teeth, a dental clinic that offers wisdom teeth removal Las Vegas patients can rely on, has announced that they use cutting edge procedures when doing wisdom teeth surgeries in order to shorten healing times after the surgery. One of these advanced techniques is L-PRF (leukocyte and platelet-rich fibrin) platelet therapy. This offers the advantage of helping the wound heal faster and preventing dry sockets.

Karah from Las Vegas Wisdom Teeth explains, "Your blood contains the building blocks of repair. If you suffered a small scrape on your knee, your body would react by creating a clot to stop the bleeding, form a scab, and finally regenerate new skin. Platelet Fibrin Therapy is similar. A small amount of blood is collected to create an advanced bioactive compound that will boost the healing forces found within your own blood to improve healing. The procedure to obtain L-PRF is virtually painless. It no more painful than a routine blood test."

L-PRF platelet therapy is 100 percent natural and additive-free. It has also been cleared by the FDA. It should be noted that natural growth factors found in the body are concentrated using L-PRF. With this therapy, the patient's own concentrated platelets and other primary blood cells and their unique healing capabilities are re-introduced at the site of the surgical procedure. The result is that the body releases powerful proteins and builds a scaffold for more efficient healing. This kind of therapy has been proven in scientific studies to enhance recovery times and reduce the risk of complications.

Dr. Spencer Wirig, who performs the wisdom teeth removal at Las Vegas Wisdom Teeth, completed his Doctor of Dental Medicine (DMD) degree at the University of Nevada Las Vegas. He is currently a general dentist in Las Vegas and Henderson. He has also completed an AEGD (Advanced Education in General Dentistry) residency in the United States Air Force (USAF), where he completed anesthesia rotations and training in the removal of wisdom teeth or third molars. He intentionally took on problematic cases in order to get as much training as possible. To date, he has removed thousands of wisdom teeth, all done with the comfort of IV sedation.

Dr. Wirig is also a member of several prestigious professional societies. These include the American Dental Society of Anesthesiology (ADSA), American Dental Association (ADA), Academy of General Dentistry (AGD), Idaho State Dental Association, Academy of LDS Dentists, and Gordon Christensen Study Club.

Las Vegas Wisdom Teeth is focused on wisdom teeth removal. In fact, that is all they do. There are a number of reasons for having wisdom teeth removed. Their highly trained staff will review with each patient their specific needs. They can provide same day and emergency treatment pending medical history review. Dr. Wirig says, "We provide IV sedation, state-of-the art technology, and highly trained staff for the ultimate in patient comfort and care."

Dr. Wirig's patients have mostly positive things to say about their experience. For instance, Pam C. gave the clinic a five star rating and said, "His office is awesome, as it does not resemble a 'dental office' at all! Very refreshing and a non-stressful atmosphere. His staff are very friendly and kind. I needed a bad wisdom tooth pulled. Once I sat down it seriously only took like 4-5 minutes it seemed and that's pushing it! Dr. Spencer knows his stuff and most important he makes you feel at ease and comfortable. I'd give him a hundred 'stars' if I could!"

Meanwhile, Drew W. also gave them five stars and said, "Shocked me by providing me a quote for surgery, thousands below what I was quoted by a 'specialist'. Amazing and friendly staff. I can't say enough good about them. Simply the best."

Those who require more information about the advanced procedures used in wisdom teeth removal, such as how they can heal faster with L-PRF, can visit the clinic's website, or contact them on the phone or through email.
