October 01, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Florida Spine & Injury, a chiropractic clinic based in The Villages, Florida, has announced their recent blog post that offers tips on how to prevent a car accident. While accidents are actually caused by unexpected events, there are a number of things that motorists can do to minimize their risk of getting involved in a car accident. They want to point out that people who drive not only have a responsibility to protect themselves but other motorists as well, by observing traffic laws and safety practices.

Dr. Jonathan Walker, D.C., one of the chiropractors at Florida Spine & Injury, says, "While it's all well and good to be a defensive driver and to practice vigilance, let's face it, car accidents still happen. The difference is, the accident doesn't need to be caused by you. Avoiding a car accident altogether is what every driver hopes, practicing safe driving techniques will help you become a good driver."

The article presents a number of tips for drivers on how to avoid accidents. First, they should ensure to keep the distractions to a minimum. Focusing on driving increases one's chances of avoiding an accident. Eliminating all possible distractions, like the cell phone, can help avoid accidents. Second, it is vital to know your blind spots and to avoid getting into the blind spot of other drivers. Third, it is safer to avoid the fast lane. Fourth, it is necessary to always keep the vehicle in good condition. Fifth, if possible avoid night time driving.

Dr. Jonathan Walker says, "However, you may find yourself the victim of a car accident because another driver was not taking the precautions that you were taking to prevent an accident from happening. In the event you are involved in a car accident, it's important to call the police to write a ticket and a detailed report stating what happened during the accident. And after you are finished at the accident scene, it is recommended that you see an experienced chiropractor because this is essential for recovery and for the accident case."

Dr. Walker adds, "If you say you're looking for a "chiropractor near me" in The Villages, check out Florida
