Highland Park Orthodontist Shares Top Ten Secrets For Choosing The Best Invisalign Provider

September 30, 2019

September 30, 2019 -
Highland Park, Illinois based orthodontist Jessica Cohen Orthodontics recently shared a new blog post that reveals the top ten secrets for choosing the best Invisalign provider. Equipped with the latest technology, the dental clinic specializes in the diagnosis, prevention, and treatment of dental and facial irregularities to improve oral health, self confidence, and whole-body health.

Dr. Jessica Cohen, Founder of Jessica Cohen Orthodontics, says, ?One of my favorite quotes is by John Ray and it says ?Beauty is power; a smile is its sword.? If there is anything wrong with your smile, Invisalign provides a virtually invisible way for you to fix it and, if you are thinking about making a considerable investment in Invisalign treatment, you want to be sure that you?ve done a good amount of research on the many available providers to choose from. After all, the provider you end up choosing can dictate the results you?ll get from your treatment?and it?s a choice that will determine how much power you have behind your smile. This is why?ve put together my list of ten tips to choose the best Invisalign provider.?

The first step described by Jessica Cohen in the blog post is to find the Top 1 Percent, which in the field of orthodontics means a practitioner who has passed every single certification requirement and has completed over 200 Invisalign treatments in a single year. Then, the post advises patients to ask the right questions, look for the proper certification and to find an orthodontist who specializes in Invisalign, who deeply cares about their patients health, and treats patients of all ages. The post also advises that they look at past reviews for the orthodontist before considering the price and payment options, getting a consultation, and asking about any potential additional costs. Those who want to learn more can find all ten tips on Jessica Cohen Orthodontics? blog.

?Whether you are a mom who has put off care until your kids grew up, or your child is now seven and you are just noticing that crowded smile,? Dr. Cohen says, ?it?s never too late to make your smile shine with the help of Jessica Cohen Orthodontics. We love our patients! We treat our young patients like they are our kids and our adult patients like our best friends. We value your trust and the investment you are making, so we are committed to building long lasting relationships and beautiful smiles for our patients. You can always check out our reviews if you want to know how our patients feel about us.?

Dr. Cohen?s dedication to make her patients? smiles shine is evident in her customer feedback. On Google, Kelsey Hilton says in her 5-star review, ?I highly recommend Dr. Jessica Cohen for your orthodontic treatment. This orthodontist is fully committed to making you happy! She goes above and beyond during your whole orthodontic journey and gives beautiful results! Her attention to detail and customer service stand out above all others! She even offers free consultations and insurance verification, which is definitely one less source of stress I need to worry about. Dr. Jessica Cohen makes your experience fun, comfortable, and convenient. If you are looking to get an amazingly beautiful smile that fits you, don?t waste your time going to multiple consultations with other orthodontists. Instead, set up a free consultation with Dr. Jessica Cohen. Trust me, you will be happy that you did.?

In another 5-star review, Danielle Sandler says, ?Dr. Jessica Cohen did my Invisalign and I couldn?t have imagined using someone else. My teeth look perfect! She is caring, considerate, meticulous, and one of the smartest doctors I have ever seen! She did not let me leave her office until I was 100% happy. I will be sending my three kids to her for braces, and couldn?t imagine using anyone else!?
