

Exciting Merge for Local Covina-Based Pest Control Company

December 12, 2019

December 12, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Covina-based Pest Busters Pest Management is extremely happy to publicize the merging and purchase of a community pest control company in Covina. This deal will allow their firm the opportunity to improve its profile in Covina, CA and will offer services to both business oriented and residential consumers all throughout Los Angeles County.

"We are excited to help these new clients and staff here at Pest Busters Pest Management," said owner and Chief Executive Officer of Pest Busters Pest Management. "For in excess of 35 years, these specialists have already been servicing a sizable customer base throughout Covina attentively and compassionately and we are privileged to continue that effort and hard work into the long run. The all new location will operate as Pest Busters Pest Management and gives us a broader range through the state of California."

"We feel totally fortunate to have connected with Pest Busters Pest Management," expressed the owner of the obtained company. "We have spoken with many companies throughout the years and we realize Pest Busters Pest Management is going to take great care of our professional team thanks to their strong family community and, aside from that, they'll have increased options for advancement," the former owner added. "After getting to know their staff during the due diligence period, each of us fully understood that we were deciding on the best company and therefore are happy we can supply more services, most notable termite inspections and treatments, to our long-term clientele."

"Pest Busters Pest Management is an extremely known and respected company in the state of California and we're very pleased to have this solid team of experts on board with us," proclaimed a Senior Professional at Pest Busters Pest Management. "Covina is an incredible location for us and getting one more location merely advances our position. We're feeling fortuitous of having made this acquisition and cannot wait to get to work with another group of pest experts."

Pest Busters Pest Management has long been serving the Covina area for quite some time providing services such as bed bug treatments, bee removal, rat control as well as their main area of expertise, termite inspections and removal. For more information in regards to the business as well as a complete list of their community pest extermination services those interested can check out their website at pestcontrolcovina.com.
