August 25, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Pest Control of Huntington Beach has been in the pest control business for well over a decade. They have been providing high quality pest control to thousands of families and business owners. The company believes that no one should feel uncomfortable in their home or work environment and have set out to fight the constant battle against pest infestations.

Their team of exterminators are all highly trained professionals for every species of pest in the Orange County area. The company offers custom services for each type of pest in order to guarantee the most effective and efficient results.

On Tuesday, Pest Control of Huntington Beach hired a new employee, Jason Vanderbuilt. Jason has been in the pest control industry for over 15 years which means he has a lot of experience. He and his family have lived in the area for over 25 years and are extremely involved in the community.

The president of Pest Control of Huntington Beach said in a recent interview, "Jason has a lot he is bringing to the table. He has a lot of experience in pest control and is extremely smart. He is extremely good at his job and I know that the residents in Orange County are going to be happy with his service. We are happy to welcome him to the team and are excited to see him help the community."

Pest infestations have been on the rise recently due to the bugs becoming more resilient to over the counter products and do it yourself methods. Pests are adapting to the everyday treatments that most people use which means that these treatments aren't as effective as they used to be (or advertise that they are). So if you need pest control consider hiring a professional exterminator to take care of your infestation.

A representative of Pest Control of Huntington Beach recently said on a phone call, "Pest infestations are on the rise in Orange County. This is due to pests becoming more resilient to every day treatments. Because of this, infestations can occur quickly and spread wildly. Our team has been working hard to contain these infestations and are controlling the spread. Jason has a lot of experience in pest control and we know he is going to try his very best to get rid of the pests in Huntington Beach.?
