

Passionate Care Announces Discount On Stethoscope For Nursing Student

August 03, 2015

August 03, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Valencia, California company Passionate Care LLC recently announced a 50 percent discount to students on their premium high end stethoscope. The discount, offered to students in preparation for the next school year, runs through August 2015.

Passionate Care released a statement saying that they understand how difficult, and expensive, it can be for nursing students to pay for their education. Their goal is to help provide supplies that are of high quality, and that students can better afford.

"I was once a nursing student myself," says the CEO of Passionate Care LLC, Raul Meza. "I understand the anxieties and concerns of a student nurse, and fully believe that having the right stethoscope shouldn't be one of those concerns."

In a stethoscope review, Passionate Care's stethoscope fared highly. It currently has several five star reviews on Amazon, and several nursing students are gladly offering their unbiased reviews and comments in favor of the Passionate Care stethoscope.

One nursing student had this to say, "I compared both stethoscopes, and I can hear better with the Passionate Care stethoscope than I can with the Littman that I've had for years, when checking S1 and S2 heart sounds, breath sounds, and bowel sounds."

Another student stated, "It's so lightweight you hardly know it's there, and the sound quality is amazing, much better in fact than any other stethoscope I've used."

The Passionate Care stethoscope features thick tubing that is durable, although this does not add extra weight to the instrument. The bell and diaphragm flips to turn off or on, and many students report it being longer than other models, which is a benefit as well because it fits much more comfortably around the neck.

The stethoscope features soft, comfortable ear tips with a tight seal for perfect sound. Compared to the 3M Cardiology by Littman, Passionate Care's stethoscope is much less expensive, even before the 50 percent discount for nursing students. The company also offers a full 60 day money back guarantee.

Nursing students interested in taking advantage of the discount offer by Passionate Care can order on Amazon using the code AWLAHP64.
