September 03, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Quality Perris Pest Control is a trusted professional pest control business in the Perris, California area. The company has a team of over 20 professional exterminators who all have been working hard to control the rising pest infestation problem. They offer custom rodent and pest control services built specifically for each species of pest in Riverside County. They have helped thousands of families over the years and have constantly been growing their service area and team size.

The company recently announced that they will be merging with another unnamed local company. The merger states that Quality Perris Pest Control will receive brand new pest extermination equipment, five new utility pest control vehicles, and five new employees.

The president of Quality Perris Pest Control went on to talk more about the merger, "We have been around for a long time helping families all over the county fight their pest control problems. We are constantly trying to grow our service area and customer base to make sure no family in the area has to deal with the stress of a pest infestation. This merger will help boost this growth even further. We are getting brand new equipment, utility vehicles, and five expert employees who we are very excited to hire in on Monday."

Pest infestations are on the rise and because of this the company has been staying really busy. A representative of the company went on to talk about the rise in infestations, "Pest infestations are constantly growing because pests are becoming more and more resilient to every day pest control treatments. The most obvious of these are bed bugs, ticks, and cockroaches. Our team has been working hard to fight this rise in infestations because we believe no family or business owner should have to deal with the stress of a pest infestation."
