October 01, 2019 -
The Columbus GA Kenneth S. Nugent, P.C. offices have announced that they are offering their legal services to auto accident victims in order for them to be able to receive the compensation that is rightfully theirs. The firm has a team of lawyers who have acquired the necessary knowledge and expertise in serving the needs of accident victims. They want people to realize that they are not just entitled to the payment of medical bills and for car repair but are also to other types of compensation.

Tim Derrickson, marketing director at Kenneth S. Nugent, P.C., says, ?Auto accidents happen at an alarming rate each year. The National Highway Safety Council has stated that there are over 3 million injuries incurred each year as a direct result of these accidents. Each of these injuries has the potential of changing someone?s life forever.?

He continues, ?If you are a victim of a car accident, it is important that you seek the advice of an auto accident attorney in Columbus. An attorney can help you receive the necessary compensation to recover from your injuries.?

The lawyers at the firm want to point out that victims of car accidents may also be entitled to other forms of compensation, such as extended medical care, compensation for the pain and suffering, lost wages, and more. Accident victims may be able to recover the wages that they have lost when they were not able to work because of their injuries. And for those who were unable to completely recover from their injuries, they may be compensated for their pain and suffering, including the loss of enjoyment of life.

The Columbus auto accident attorney will carefully examine the accident report and the medical records to find out the extent of compensation that can be claimed. The lawyers at Kenneth S. Nugent, P.C. have the skills and experience to force the insurance companies to pay whatever compensation is appropriate.

They want victims to know that insurance companies will try to settle the case as quickly as possible, before all of the relevant information about the case have been gathered, as a way to minimize the payment that they will need to make. Thus, an insurance adjustor will usually contact the victim a few days after the accident to offer a settlement that would end the case.

Thus, it is vital for victims to contact an auto accident attorney before providing a recorded statement to any insurance adjustor. Those who are contacted before they have had the chance to consult with a lawyer will have to decline the interview until they have spoken to a lawyer.

The lawyer from Kenneth S. Nugent, P.C. will serve as a mediator between the victim and the insurance firm. These lawyers have the legal knowledge and training to negotiate with the insurance companies in order to obtain the compensation that the auto accident victims deserve.

They want to point out that car accidents can have a lasting impact on the victims, financially, emotionally, and physically. When getting the services of a lawyer, they would be able to focus on their recovery. That is because the lawyer will be responsible for the legal battles that need to be won, saving the victims from being worried and frustrated about such matters.

The accident attorney team at Kenneth S. Nugent, P.C. are products of some of the best universities and colleges, such as Emory, Mercer Law School, Michigan State School of Law, South Texas College of Law, University of Georgia, and Georgia State University School of Law. They are licensed to practice in various states, including Georgia, Alabama, Texas, North Carolina, West Virginia, Florida, South Carolina, and Tennessee.
