Pest Protection Specialists has been providing professional pest control to the Carmel area for over a decade now. The company has helped thousands of local residents and business owners with various pest problems. Their team of fifteen exterminators have been highly trained on how to treat any and every pest in the area. The training shows them the most efficient and effective ways of getting rid of pests so that no one has to stress about a pest infestation in their property. Their services are highly rated and are known to be fast, effective, and affordable.

In a new announcement the company welcomed two new employees to their team of exterminators. Tom Champ and Walter Bowman are their newest additions. The president of the company went on to say in the meeting, "Please help me welcome our two newest team members, Tom Champ and Walter Bowman. Tom is a champion when it comes to performing pest control. He has been in the pest control industry for over fifteen years and knows how to treat just about every pest in the area. He knows a wide range of tactics to take care of any pest in the safest and most effective way. Some of these methods I've never even heard before. He is going to bring a lot of experience to the table and will help to better take care of our community."

He went on to talk about the other employee, "Walter has been an exterminator for over twenty five years. It is no exaggeration to say that he is an expert in the field. He can handle and pest infestation that is thrown at him. He is a problem solver at heart and really enjoys helping people. I know both of these men are going to be great additions to the team and will help take better care of our Hamilton County residents."

The company recently noticed a huge increase in the number of pest control phone calls that they've been receiving so they did some research. They found that pest infestations are getting worse and worse. A representative of the company went on to talk about this problem, "We think that this rise in infestations is due to the pests becoming immune to everyday treatments. Most people think store-bought products or do it yourself methods work. Although they used to work great, that is no longer the case. These pests are more resilient to these treatments so they are able to spread and multiply more than ever before. Professional services are becoming the only reliable option to get rid of pests. That is why we opened Pest Protection

Specialists. We believe no one should have to deal with the stress of a pest infestation and because this increase of infestations is threatening that goal, we decided to hire new employees to help even more people.?
