March 06, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Area residents of Columbus have likely noticed the increase in bed bug instances throughout the Franklin County area. Bed Bugs Columbus Exterminators have stated that they have been receiving an increase in phone calls regarding these particular pests. Luckily, it's their specialty so they're able to provide the superior bed bug control services that Columbus residents want.

The manager said, "When it comes to bed bug removal you're going to get the best results when you call a local exterminator for help. The treatments that worked long ago on these bugs are no longer efficient which makes battling them on your own that much harder."

Bed bugs typically start by infesting a bed first, but they can quickly spread to other parts of the room and even other areas of the property. The longer they go untreated the bigger the problem property owners will have because they will breed and quickly infest a property.

"At the very first sign of bed bugs or even if you just think you may have them, call a bed bug exterminator in Columbus OH right away. Don't wait because they won't go away on their own and they'll be harder to get rid of once they've seriously infested your property," the manager added.

Bed Bugs Columbus Exterminators services both homes and businesses for these particular pests because no property is exempt from the risk of being invaded by these bugs. According to the business manager there are steps that property owners can take to help battle the bugs.

"When you call our bed bug removal experts in Columbus, OH we will inspect your property and determine just how serious the issue is, should bed bugs be active. We can then recommend the best plan of action to start treating them and can advise you on certain things you can do to help as well. If they're not caught right away you can expect to need more than one treatment to efficiently remove them," the manager said.
